2021 - 2022
Master's Level
Campus Life Handbook

WELCOME!

Welcome to McCormick Theological Seminary! This Campus Life Handbook is a one-stop introduction to life at McCormick. It includes practical information on community life, facilities and services. The Campus Life Handbook is a guide that will help you navigate seminary life, utilize the resources available to you, and be informed about policies, procedures and expectations. The Campus Life Handbook addresses the different expectations we have of one another—those that McCormick has of its students and those that students can expect from the Seminary.

There are many resources available to theological students in Chicago, including:

1. The Association of Chicago Theological Schools (ACTS) website (<http://www.actschicago.org/>);
2. The University of Chicago's online guidebook, Common Sense: Your Guide to Safe Urban Living (<https://commonsense.uchicago.edu/>);
3. The materials produced from McCormick's Office of Student Academics (OSA).

These resources along with this Campus Life Handbook will help you find answers to many of your questions about seminary life.

Of course, the best resources are people, and you are encouraged to ask questions, seek guidance from, raise concerns with, and offer suggestions to any of McCormick's administration, faculty, and staff. The Office of Student Academics (OSA) is always looking for ways to improve our operations, including this Handbook. We appreciate your feedback. The administration, faculty and staff welcome you to the 2021-2022 academic year!

"Therefore welcome one another as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God."

(Romans 15:7)

On behalf of our entire community, it is my great pleasure to welcome you to McCormick Theological Seminary. This is a very special place, and we are all deeply grateful that you are here.

Since its founding in 1829, McCormick has trained leaders for the Church, and for communities around the world. You now have the opportunity to join those who have come before you, who have been formed in no small measure by their uniquely McCormick experience, and who have gone forth to bring God's word, love, and hope to the world.

The path you have chosen is not an easy one. There will be challenging times; but there will be moments of tremendous joy, understanding, and grace. We will worship together. We will break bread together. We will laugh, and we will cry together. And, perhaps most importantly, we will all learn together.

So, friends, let us begin this journey together united in our faith, our love for God, and our love for one another.

Peace and blessings,

President of McCormick Theological Seminary challenged by the Holy Spirit and grounded in God's transforming love for the world in Jesus Christ.

We are called to nurture the gifts of women and men for faithful Christian ministry and leadership through rigorous academic study, practical experience and spiritual formation.

A seminary of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) since 1829 and a progressive leader within the Reformed tradition, we are committed to institutional life, scholarship and ministry that is ecumenical, urban and cross-cultural.

Our goals are that McCormick Theological Seminary will:

1. Provide a program of study for the preparation of women and men for ministry and the professional education of ministers that is reformed, ecumenical, cross-cultural, and urban.
2. Build upon our culture of relationships in which mutual accountability, responsibility and respect characterize all Seminary communications and operations, all of which are central to an urban seminary committed to being Reformed, ecumenical, and cross-cultural.
3. Develop technological resources and access to information resources that support the Seminary's teaching and learning goals and are fully integrated into all aspects of the Seminary's work.
4. Maintain the ongoing growth of financial resources, in order to support our mission, goals, and programs, while seeking to minimize student indebtedness.
5. Develop and continue to maintain external institutional partnerships that strategically advance our mission of inclusiveness, diversity, and ecumenism in the context of our identity as a seminary of the PC (USA).
6. Be a Reformed, ecumenical, and cross-cultural community in which the presence of God is named and welcomed.

SECTION I: STUDENT HANDBOOK

WHO ARE WE?

"Who are we?" is a complex question and requires a multi-layered response that acknowledges the importance of faith, experience and personality. Who are we as persons? Who are we as a community? Who are we as Christians? Who were we when we heard God's call to begin seminary? Who will we be a few years down the road when all the courses are completed, all the sermons are preached, all the reviews are done and the graduation service begins?

The decision to begin seminary is ultimately a decision rooted in faith. Coming to McCormick calls us to leave what is known and what we have known, step into the unknown, and be open to the transforming power of new experiences in Christ. Perhaps some of the most important things that we bring to this learning community are our stories: your story and the stories of our communities of faith and culture that have nurtured us thus far. Each of our stories is a chronicle of experience that helps identify who we are, who we have been and who we have yet to become through the grace of God. At McCormick we are a community of stories of God's grace, mercy and provision.

Stories give meaning and value to places, to people and to communities. This is why Jesus taught using parables and why the Hebrew Scriptures return again and again to the story of the Israelite exodus from Egypt and their covenant relationship with God. Our stories celebrate who we are and allow others to connect with those experiences through their own stories. At McCormick we understand history to be dynamic. There is a history of McCormick as an institution, and there are the histories each student, staff and faculty member brings to this place. Together we create a history while living, learning and working at McCormick. Finally, there is the legacy that we leave for those who will come after us seeking to answer the same complex question. Who are we?

WHO ARE WE TODAY?

Diversity and pluralism are the words most frequently used to describe who we are today. McCormick is a diverse community of students, faculty and staff all living together, working together, and learning from one another. We are also a community of faith and a community of people committed to the ideals of faith, worship, and service found in the teachings of Jesus Christ. Some of us have been in ministry for years. Some of us are only now hearing God's call to serve. Some of us are ordained, some not yet, and some are not pursuing ordination. However, we are all the people of God, struggling to live faithfully in community and to claim, with integrity, our full creation in the image of God.

As McCormick has grown and matured it has become a community characterized by true multiculturalism. We are a community of people from many cultural, ethnic and linguistic backgrounds. We are a community of African American, Asian American, Euro American, Latinx and international students, faculty and staff. At McCormick you will hear people speaking English, Korean, Spanish and many other languages as well.

One of the temptations inherent in our diversity is to adopt the naive assumption that living with one another necessarily means that we understand one another. Unfortunately, it is not that easy. The challenge, then, is to explore intentionally and directly how we are similar, how we are different and why. This is why our interpersonal relationships, our shared experiences in worship and our conversations over meals together are so important. At McCormick we are all teachers and we are all students. Our life in community at McCormick is the testing ground for our life of service in the world.

SEMINARY GOVERNANCE

Board of Trustees

McCormick Theological Seminary is governed by a Board of Trustees made up of ministers and lay leaders from the Chicago area and across the nation. Master's and doctoral level students serve on the Board as do two members of the faculty and representatives of the alumni/ae. The Board delegates to the Administration the daily management of the Seminary and to the faculty the oversight of all matters related to educational program and curriculum, admissions, student standing, worship and faculty development.

The final policy-making body within the Seminary is the Board of Trustees. Matters from all committees, advisory groups, councils, sessions and forums are referred to the Trustees when appropriate.

Faculty Committees

McCormick's committees provide input into various programs, special projects and use of resources. McCormick's committees develop and carry out the procedures required to achieve the academic goals and objectives of the Seminary.

Chairs of all faculty committees are appointed by the Dean of the Faculty, in consultation with the President. Committees are comprised of faculty with student representatives. Students also serve on faculty search committees and other committees composed for special purposes.

STUDENT LIFE

The quality of student life at McCormick Theological Seminary reflects the effort an individual student invests in meeting other students, faculty and staff, in participating in McCormick-sponsored events, and in being proactive about developing new initiatives to meet the needs of the student body. Student life is a combination of classroom time together; times of fellowship at special events and in community worship; and times spent together over meals, between classes, online; and in the hallways and lounges of McCormick and LSTC.

Community Worship

Because McCormick students are involved in preparation for ministry, the Seminary seeks to complement your own spiritual and ecumenical formation. While there are many ways to achieve this goal, one important way is through McCormick community worship.

In the 2021-2022 academic year, McCormick's weekly Christian worship service is held on Wednesdays, twice from 12:05 – 1:35 p.m. and from 5:20 – 5:50 p.m., typically in the McGaw Common Room, hybrid and streamed live online during the fall semester and until it becomes safe again to gather in person. This worship services provide the McCormick community with a time to deepen ecumenical faith formation and commitment to worship with siblings from several worshiping traditions. We join together in music and prayer, listen to the Word of God proclaimed in Scripture and sermon, and celebrate the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Worship teams are comprised of students, faculty and staff who are ordained ministers who preside at the Lord's Table. Sermons are offered by faculty, staff and McCormick seniors.

When gathered in person, the community moves from the Lord's Table to the meal table. Following the worship service and before afternoon classes begin, many students, faculty and staff eat lunch together in the foyer area, directly outside the Common Room. Community meals are free and members in the community who feel led to donate towards the cost of the meal are welcome to do so.

Midday prayer services and special prayer services are offered on occasion at McCormick throughout the academic year.

Regular worship services via Zoom take place at LSTC daily, Monday through Thursday, beginning at 11:15 am. Members of the McCormick community and the larger community are always welcome. Please check the LSTC calendar for details and information on special worship opportunities as well.

The Master's Level Student Council

The Student Council is the connectional, communications and advocacy body of all McCormick master's level students. The Student Council consists of two students elected from each class (Junior, Middler and Senior) and one voting delegate representing each of the student advocacy groups. Representatives from each student advocacy group are provided voice in the Student Council. The Student Council also puts together committees to address specific concerns of the McCormick community.

The Student Council seeks ways to be responsive to the needs of a mature and diverse student body. It initiates programs and recommends policies affecting such areas as spiritual growth, recreation, anti-racism, student housing and social engagement. The Student Council actively seeks to hear and give voice to the concerns of the various constituencies within the Seminary. The Student Council is involved in the planning, funding and implementation of many events throughout the year. Funds are also available to help students reduce the cost of attending conferences. Please see a Student Council representative for more detailed guidelines regarding funds.

Students are encouraged to participate in the Student Council by running for office, serving on a Student Council committee and attending Student Council meetings. The Student Council meets on the first Thursday of every month, from 4:00 – 6:00 p.m. in the Buchanan Lounge of the McCormick building, unless otherwise announced. Student Council elections are held for Middlers and Seniors in the spring term and for Juniors in the fall term. The Student Council officers chosen for the 2021-2022 school year are:

Co-Moderators: Douglas Gaines

Clerk: Elexis Wilson

Senior Representatives: Douglas Gaines and Kimberly Lewis

Middler Representatives: Dorothy Jones

Junior Representatives: Kevin Tyson, Katherine
"Ryn" Thelen

Student Advocacy and Constituency Groups

In recent years, several groups have addressed special needs and concerns of the McCormick community. Student groups offer resources and challenges to the whole Seminary through forums and other events, and coordinate their plans with the Master's Level Student Council. Students who share common interests and concerns are encouraged to join existing groups or initiate new interest groups, fellowship groups and student organizations. Attention should be given to existing groups so that overlapping of existing groups and organizations is avoided. The groups include, but are not limited to:

- Acts 10:15 - lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer (LGBTQ) concerns
- Anti-Racism (ARM) - students doing anti-racism work in the McCormick community
- La Asociacion de Estudiantes Latino/as de McCormick (A.E.L.M.) – Latino/a students and others interested in Latino/a issues
- Commuter Student Group - focuses on commuter student life
- Eco-Justice Student Group - concerned about environmental issues
- Global Community - advocating for international students and communities
- Korean/Korean-American Students Association (K.S.A.) - for Korean students and their families

- Pan-African Students Organization (P.A.S.O.) - concerned with African-American students and African diasporic descent
- Seminarians for Justice – local political activism in Chicago connected with The People’s Lobby
- Women in Ministry - women's concerns in ministry

For more information on joining or starting a group, please e-mail the Student Council at studentcouncil@go.mccormick.edu

The Board of Deacons

The McCormick Deacons are master’s level students elected to a special office of service. The Deacons serve the emotional and spiritual well-being of students and their families. They seek to foster fellowship, provide opportunities for community building and offer recognition, prayer support and comfort regarding the joys and concerns of members of the community. The Deacons fulfill these responsibilities in cooperation with the Master’s Level Student Council. Biblical inspiration for having deacons is rooted in Acts 6:1-7.

What the deacons do:

The McCormick student body is divided into groups of students, each with an assigned Deacon, for the purpose of coordinating intentional emotional and spiritual student care. All of the Deacons are there to help you. You are not limited to only one Deacon; you actually have several!

Students can approach a Deacon for:

- Nurture, growth, fellowship and connectedness among students and their families
- Recognition, support and comfort regarding joys and concerns of the community
- Prayer concerns
- Financial support in times of crisis for emergency travel expenses or sudden illness
- Celebration of family milestones and support in difficult times
- Advocacy

The 2021-2022 Board of Deacons are:

Co-Moderators: Doralice Gardner

Seniors: Douglas Gaines, Brenda Montgomery

Middlers: Kenith Bergeron, Frank Fosu, Suresh Kumar, Daniel Soto

Juniors: Takeena Cochren, Rhonda Greer, Kenneth Scott

Deacons-At-Large: TBD

The by-laws of McCormick's Board of Deacons appear in Section III: Student Policies Handbook. You can contact the Deacons at deacons@go.mccormick.edu

The Claret Center & Center for Religion and Psychotherapy of Chicago (CRPC)

STUDENT SAFETY

KEEPING YOURSELF SAFE

Hyde Park is a wonderfully diverse community. The presence of the University of Chicago makes it a destination for visitors from all over the country and the world; its businesses make it a major shopping center for the South Side of Chicago. Stately private homes, subsidized housing and high-rise private apartment buildings share the tree-lined blocks. The streets of Chicago are filled with people of all racial, ethnic and economic backgrounds and we meet in museums, theaters, restaurants, clubs, shops, public parks, gardens and more. If you are a newcomer or if you are unfamiliar with urban life, this vibrant mix will present some unfamiliar situations. As you learn how to enjoy and become part of the community and the city, keep basic safety rules in mind. As you travel around the city, you will ultimately understand the difference between discomfort and danger; you'll acquire "street smarts." Trust your instincts. If someone approaches you and seems agitated or aggressive, be on your guard. If you feel threatened, or if you see someone in danger, get to some place safe as soon as possible. Try to stay safe as you seek help.

We lift up the following recommendations from University Police:

1. Be alert and aware of your surroundings at all times. Don't resist an armed robbery unless absolutely necessary. Avoid using cell phones or other electronics while on the street. When walking at night, try to walk with a friend or a group.
2. Familiarize yourself with the location of University emergency phones. If you see suspicious activity, please report it immediately to the police by activating an emergency phone or by calling UCPD when you get to a safe location:
<https://commonsense.uchicago.edu/page/emergency-phone-locations>
3. Visit the Department of Safety & Security's website: <http://safety-security.uchicago.edu/>
4. For more information from our City of Chicago Police 2nd District, please visit:
<http://home.chicagopolice.org/community/district/2nd-district-wentworth/>

Approximately 380 University of Chicago Emergency Phones are located throughout Hyde Park. Press the red button to be connected with the University Police dispatchers.

Emergency Phones are located as far as 40th St. to the north, 64th St. to the south, Cottage Grove Ave. to the west, and Shore Dr. to the east. See the full map at:

<https://commonsense.uchicago.edu/page/emergency-phone-locations>

The following are additional tips for keeping yourself safe:

1. McCormick is within the jurisdiction of the University of Chicago Police Department. You can call the UCPD if you ever need help (773-702-8181). Identify yourself as a student.
2. For the safety of the community, never prop open the doors of campus buildings.
3. If your building has an intercom, use it. Never open the door for anyone you do not know.
4. Keep things locked up - your room or apartment, your car, your bike, etc.
5. Many people carry whistles in Hyde Park to call for help or make some noise.
6. Use University of Chicago UGo Daytime and NightRide shuttles. These offer free rides to students - show your University of Chicago library access Campus Card (see p. 23 of this handbook under /- Share, ACTS, and University of Chicago Libraries). Find more information about transportation services online at <http://safety-security.uchicago.edu/transportation>

7. If you choose to document a situation by recording using your cell phone, stay safe and avoid impeding or interfering with any police officers' activities.
8. Carry your contact numbers, medical information and insurance card with you, kept in a safe place.
9. McCormick operates under the Title IX, Clery Act and in accordance with McCormick's Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy and Complaint Procedures.

WHAT IF SOMETHING HAPPENS?

If you are a crime victim, we advise you to take the following steps:

1. If in the Hyde Park neighborhood, contact the University of Chicago Police immediately by calling 773-702-8181 or by using one of the white emergency phone boxes located throughout the neighborhood. Contacting the University Police will automatically result in the Chicago Police being contacted. If you are not in Hyde Park, you should call 911 and contact the Chicago Police department directly.
2. If you choose to document a situation using your cell phone, stay safe and do not interfere with the work of any police officer.
3. If you are injured you should go directly to the nearest hospital emergency room. If you are the victim of a sexual assault, first find a safe place, then promptly seek help at a hospital emergency room, and please reach out to people on your contact list to be with you. (The nearest emergency room in Hyde Park is the University of Chicago Medical Center Emergency Room located at 901 E. 58th St. See <https://healthcare.uchicago.edu/page/urgent-medical-care> for more information.) Contact Title IX Coordinators David Crawford (773-947-6250; dcrawford@mccormick.edu) and Ashley Woodfaulk (773-947-6261; awoodfaulk@mccormick.edu).
4. Students may also contact David Crawford (dcrawford@mccormick.edu; 312-543-3880) for non-police or non-life threatening emergencies. Assistance is also available through the Office of Student Academics (osa@mccormick.edu) and other student support resources.

HOW DO WE LEARN AND LIVE TOGETHER?

One of the ways that we live and learn together is by being clear about the expectations we have of one another and the expectations we have for our experience at McCormick. This is an ongoing dialogue that takes on new dimensions every year. What follows is intended to assist that dialogue.

SEMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Academics

The Seminary recognizes that your primary purpose while at McCormick is to pursue an academic program as it relates to your formation and preparation for ministry. Though you may have additional responsibilities such as family, church, work, etc., the primary reason for being enrolled at McCormick is academic and experiential preparation for ministry. Being a seminary student requires great skills in balancing and managing a long list of responsibilities, including adhering to McCormick community policies and standards. For a full explanation of McCormick's academic policies, please consult Section III: Student Policies Handbook and the McCormick Academic Catalog.

Adult Learners

Students at McCormick are adult learners who attend classes, complete work on time and give academic work top priority. As an adult learner, you are expected to know your limitations and to ask for help when it is needed. The faculty expects you to be an active participant in your seminary education, making full use of Seminary resources and the life experience you bring to McCormick.

Community Life and Conflict Resolution

Though living and learning together in a community of faith such as McCormick has numerous rewards, it is not always easy. Because we are a community living, working and learning together, we need to put our faith into action every day - be it in the classroom, in worship or in other gatherings. Like all Christian communities, we struggle to live according to the ethic of love and forgiveness proclaimed by Jesus Christ. Just because we live together doesn't mean we always agree or that we never have conflicts. The challenge is to learn how to disagree respectfully and resolve conflicts in a way that is just, fair and that seeks equity, reconciliation and forgiveness. This is why we try to listen before we speak, speak the truth in love and work to maintain a spirit of unity and a bond of peace with one another. The Seminary expects that all members of the McCormick community will take this challenge and this struggle seriously for our common life.

On an interpersonal level the whole McCormick community is expected to function with respect and openness. Without these two values our efforts to live according to our baptism are fruitless. This means that we attempt to honor each other's rights as human beings and honor each person as a child of God. When conflicts and misunderstandings arise, as they inevitably do, members of the McCormick community are expected to work toward resolution. This means communicating directly with one another, being honest with one another and learning to live with differences. Persons unwilling to work toward resolution of conflict or who are unwilling to respect other community members jeopardize their own place in the community.

When conflicts arise and you don't know what to do, begin with the following persons who will be able to assist or direct you:

Thehil Russelliah Singh, Coordinator of Student Success

(773-947-6317; tsingh@mccormick.edu ; office #357)

David Watkins, Assistant Dean of Student Services

(773-947-6314; dwatkins@mccormick.edu; office #356)

Chandra Wade, Registrar & Director of Student Records

(773-947-6285; cwade@mccormick.edu; office #355)

Student Council Co-Moderators: Douglas Gaines (773-947-6303; studentcouncil@go.mccormick.edu; office #114)

Remember, you can speak to any member of the Student Council, faculty and staff about all concerns, questions or conflicts.

Taking Care of Business

Another important expectation is self-responsibility. As an adult learner, you are expected to be responsible for the business side of your seminary education. This means registering for courses and paying for tuition and other bills on time. The Seminary understands that expenses and budgets for students run tight. If you anticipate having a problem making a payment or registering on time, let the appropriate people know. We will try to help you find solutions for problems that arise.

Quick Guide to Student Financial Planning

1. McCormick offers both need-based grants and merit (targeted) scholarships.
 - a) Need-based grants generally cover up to 75% of tuition. Students must enroll at least half-time (6 classes) throughout the academic year between fall and spring semester to qualify for need-based grants.
 - b) Merit scholarship recipients must be full-time students (4 classes per semester/ 9 classes per year). In addition to continuing academic excellence, they are expected to contribute to the life of the McCormick community.
2. Dropping a course late affects a student's finances.
3. The Office of Student Financial Planning can assist students with navigating loan issues and offer guidance to regain good standing. Please contact Nathaniel Ramsey, Director of Financial Aid (773-947-6309; nramsey@mccormick.edu; office #232) with any loan questions.
4. While most faculty attempt to keep textbook costs low, you should be prepared to obtain books at the beginning of each term. Syllabi are posted so that you can acquire new or used books.
5. It is not advisable for students to be both full-time students and full-time workers.
6. Student debt can limit your options in ministry. The Director of Financial Aid works with all students so that borrowing can be kept at a minimum. Please let the Office of Student Financial Planning know of any loan problems.
7. McCormick participates in the Federal Work-Study program.

Second Floor and Third Floor Staff Offices and Office Hours

Need help with a non-academic issue? The majority of McCormick's administrative staff offices and workspaces are on the second floor of the 5460 building. Administrative staff members located on the second floor include: Nathaniel Ramsey (Financial Aid); Ashley Woodfaulk (Human Resources); Carmen Rollins (Student Accounts); Barbara Fassett (IT Department); and Natasha Gaines (Administration, including Parking). Admissions, the Development Office, the Business office, and the President's Office are also located on the second floor. The Registrar's office and the Office of Student Academics are located on the third floor. In regular non-COVID times, all students may access second and third floor offices and workspaces between the hours of 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday-Friday, by entering through the center door, located just off the elevator at the top of the spiral staircase or the elevator itself. Individual staff members are also accessible by appointment, and can be reached electronically by email or mobile phone.

The first five of these departments are responsible to the Office of the President, who in turn reports to the Board of Trustees. Each department has specific tasks and duties.

OFFICE OF ADMISSIONS AND ENROLLMENT

In order to enroll new students and build new cohorts for all Certificate, Masters and Doctor of Ministry Programs each year, the Office of Admissions and Enrollment responds to inquiries for information about McCormick and actively recruits prospective students. This office processes applications and admits new students year round, i.e., rolling admissions. Once students are admitted, it is this office's responsibility to coordinate pre-enrollment communication and orientation with entering students. You are McCormick's best representatives and recruiters. Please contact us if you would like to refer a prospective student. The Office of Admissions and Enrollment's office is on the 2nd floor.

Registrar

The Registrar's office has primary responsibility for recording and maintaining your academic record, and assists students with registration, immunization forms, I.D. cards, forms and transcripts. The Registrar also serves as the Principal Designated School Official (PDSO) for international students. F-1 visa students must maintain their status via communication with the Registrar's office.

Registration for McCormick courses and for courses at the schools who participate in the ACTS cluster takes place through this office. With permission from the Assistant Dean of Student Services and the Registrar, students may also request to register for courses at the Divinity School of the University of Chicago during their tenure at McCormick.

The Registrar's office maintains immunization records for McCormick students. By law, students born after January 1, 1957, must be immunized against certain diseases. Proof of immunization or proof of date of birth prior to 1957 must be submitted to the Registrar's office before registration for the J-term and/or the Spring Semester. See the Immunization Records Policy for more information.

Transcripts are released upon written request. There are transcript request forms located across from the Registrar's office (#355) and on the student portal. There is no charge for the first request or judicatory requests. Otherwise, the charge is $5.00 for each transcript. Processing time for written requests is three days before mailing. Transcripts "on demand" are $10.00 each.

Grades are available to students online within three weeks after the end of the semester. If a student has legitimate reasons for requesting an extension for completion of a course, the student must make the request in consultation with the course instructor before the last regular class session of the semester, prior to exam week. Incomplete grades ("I"s) that are not completed within the specified time limit will become Permanent Incompletes ("PI"s). Please refer to the McCormick Academic Catalog for more information.

ID Cards

During orientation, students receive ID cards which are required for some student services and for entry into the McCormick building. The first student ID card is free of charge. Replacement cards are available to students, from the registrar's office, at $10 per replacement unless the new card is damaged, inoperable, or misprinted.

International Students

The Registrar and Office of Student Academics document compliance with U.S. policies relating to residency and academic progress. International Students also receive assistance from Rob Worley, Director of the LRWC (rworley@mccormick.edu; 773-256-0707, LSTC 3rd floor, east wing #301).

Please note that all international McCormick degree students must have health insurance for the time they are enrolled in a degree program (see the International Student Health Insurance Policy in Section III: Student Policies Handbook).

Athletic Facilities

McCormick students qualify for purchasing a discounted "seminary student" membership to the athletic facilities at the University of Chicago. The Ratner Athletics Center is located at 55th and Ellis Avenue. The Henry Crown Field House is located at 56th and University Avenue.

To purchase membership, go to the Ratner Center front desk with your McCormick student ID card and fill out a membership form, available at the Ratner Center front desk (773-702-3871) or online at: <http://athletics.uchicago.edu/facilities/Membership-Application-2015-16.pdf>

The McCormick Herald

The Herald is McCormick's student-run e-newsletter, publishing articles, pictures, opinion pieces and information about educational and professional opportunities, school and community events and more. The Herald is also a platform for students and student organizations to express their questions, concerns, and excitement about all things McCormick, ministry, Chicago, and life. All McCormick community members are invited to submit pieces and pictures to The Herald. Submissions to the Herald are accepted via email (herald@mccormick.edu).

Vocational Planning

The Office of Student Academics (OSA) cooperates with various church governing bodies and other agencies to provide information about vocational planning.

Experiential Education and Field Studies

As McCormick Theological Seminary prepares women and men for ministry in an ever-changing world, we recognize the importance of an integrated educational experience offered in partnership with churches and ministry-related agencies. The Field Studies program provides students with opportunities to be involved in the practice of ministry under supervision as a required part of their academic study and formal training while enrolled in degree programs.

One academic year of Field Studies, in conjunction with classes MIN-404/405 Reflection on the Practice of Ministry, is required of all Master of Arts in Ministry and Master of Divinity students.

JKM Library

Students and faculty are strongly encouraged to avail themselves of the services and resources of the JKM Library. Physically located on the 2nd and 3rd floors of the west wing of the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago (LSTC) building, and on the web at www.jkmlibrary.org, the JKM Library is more than just a physical collection of shelves of hundreds of thousands of books, periodicals, and other resources. Rather, it is a group of individuals committed to making those materials accessible, and assisting students and faculty discover and interpret those resources according to their research needs. The library is governed by a board comprising the presidents and deans of MCCORMICK and McCormick, two faculty representatives, two board representatives, along with the director of the library.

www.jkmlibrary.org

From the library's website, you can:

- Search Primo (the JKM/I-Share online catalog) to discover what resources are available at JKM and the other 88 I-Share libraries (see below for more information about I-Share).
- Log into your JKM/I-Share account for due dates, fines/fees, status of requests, etc., using your OpenAthens credentials.
- access the databases and e-resources to which JKM subscribes using your OpenAthens credentials
- request a book from another I-Share library
- learn how to perform basic library functions such as how to place an I-Share request, renew an item, access the e-resources via OpenAthens, etc.
- answer basic questions about library services and policies regarding overdue materials, recalls, fines/fees, etc.
- contact library staff by using the 'Ask a question' function.

OpenAthens

OpenAthens is JKM's access management platform which you use to:

- access your JKM/I-Share Primo account, which allows you to request hardcopy materials from the JKM Library, check due dates, renew materials, etc.; and,
- access e-resources such as the Atla Religion Database with AtlaSerials PLUS, Old and New Testament Abstracts, Academic Search Complete, JSTOR, Ministry Matters™, as well as the thousands of e-books to which we provide access.

OpenAthens credentials for new students are set up early in the semester. If your credentials aren't working, contact the OpenAthens administrator at ask@jkmlibrary.org

Library services

In addition to providing traditional library services (borrowing, research assistance, computer technology, photocopying/scanning/printing, public computers, wireless access, etc.) the JKM Library staff seeks to meet the information needs of McCormick faculty and students by:

- providing virtual research assistance during the day and evenings
- enabling faculty and students to place retrieval requests for materials from the stacks and from the other 88 libraries in the I-Share consortium
- enabling faculty and students to place document delivery requests for scanned materials from books and periodicals (within the guidelines of fair use of copyrighted materials)
- purchasing hardcopy and e-resources to support teaching and learning (within the constraints of budget and availability)
- providing access to robust relevant online resources that support teaching and learning.

Contacting library staff

For questions regarding library privileges, fines/fees, and access to other libraries, write to circ@jkmlibrary.org or call 773.256.0739 or 773.256.0732

For research assistance, document delivery questions, and problems with access to e-resources via OpenAthens, write to ask@jkmlibrary.org or call 773.256.0734

A list of library staff is available here.

Library hours

Library hours are posted on the JKM homepage.

Borrowing privileges

Apply for a JKM borrower's card and ACTS borrower's card at the JKM circulation desk (contingent upon COVID protocols).

I-Share consortium

The JKM Library is a member of I-Share, a consortium of 89 academic and research libraries in Illinois. I-Share libraries offer universal borrowing, which allows McCormick students, faculty and staff to borrow items from any of the I-Share libraries by either

- visiting in person (contingent upon COVID protocols);
- requesting them through the JKM/I-Share catalog. Requested items are sent via ILDS from the lending library to JKM (or any other I-Share library of the user's choosing). Upon notification, users can pick up materials at the JKM circulation desk (or designated location).

Every I-Share library determines its own policies regarding fees, non-circulating materials, etc. Because of licensing restrictions set by publishers and vendors, e-resources (e.g.: ebooks, databases) owned by one I-Share library cannot be shared with the users associated with any of the other 88 I-Share libraries. Contacting a library before visiting to confirm access is always recommended.

Association of Chicago Theological Schools (ACTS) libraries

McCormick students and faculty may also borrow materials in person (contingent upon COVID protocols) from all of the member libraries of the Association of Chicago Theological Schools (ACTS).

Most ACTS libraries are also members of the I-Share consortium:

- American Islamic College*
- Catholic Theological Union
- Chicago Theological Seminary*
- Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary*
- Loyola University Chicago*
- Meadville Lombard Theological School
- Moody Bible Institute
- North Park University
- Northern Seminary
- Spertus Institute for Jewish Learning and Leadership
- Trinity International University
- University of St. Mary of the Lake

*designates those libraries that are not members of I-Share. When applying for privileges at the above 4 libraries, McCormick students must present:

- a valid McCormick i.d.
- a current ACTS borrower identification card issued by the JKM circulation desk (good for one year from date of issue).

Contacting a library before visiting to confirm access is always recommended.

University of Chicago libraries

McCormick students also enjoy in-person borrowing privileges (contingent upon COVID protocols) at the University of Chicago libraries, with their rich resources in the humanities, social sciences, law, medicine, and sciences. E-resources are accessible to McCormick users only on the premises of the Regenstein Library. Apply for borrowing privileges at the ID and Privileges office at the Joseph Regenstein library (check <https://ipo.uchicago.edu/> for hours), and present

- a valid McCormick i.d.
- a current ACTS borrower identification card issued by the JKM circulation desk (good for one year from date of issue).

The library will issue you a library card and credentials to access the library's networks and your library account. Note: the ACTS borrower identification is intended as proof of current enrollment; the University's libraries, however, are not part of I-Share or ACTS.

As always, policies for borrowing, fines and fees, etc. differ from library to library, and users are expected to abide by the lending library's policies.

Atla Reciprocal Borrowing Program

JKM participates in the Atla Reciprocal Borrowing program, which is an arrangement among participating Atla members to grant borrowing privileges to each other's users for a limited duration. When applying for privileges at a participating library, the McCormick-affiliated user must present proof of current enrollment (consult the registrar), and abide by the library's local lending policies. Individuals interested in applying for borrowing privileges at a participating library are urged to contact that library's circulation department before visiting. An up-to-date list of participating libraries is available here.

Language Resource and Writing Center (LRWC)

The LRWC is first a place of hospitality, where students can be who they are and explore their ideas, values and gifts while surrounded by peers who share their concerns and interests. In this loving but challenging environment we encourage openness, mutuality, respect and honesty from one another. The value of hospitality we place in our work and lives together is expressed through our programs, including the Summer Immersion Program, our Learning Partnerships and our Global Conversations (held each Monday at noon).

A critical way in which the LRWC supports students to develop communication and relational skills is through Learning Partnerships. These partnerships develop from the specific needs or interests of partners and develop into partnerships of spiritual nurture, solidarity, accompaniment and mutuality. They foster a pastoral presence, and challenge the narrow political, cultural and theological conceptions we all bring to theological education. Learning Partnerships are personal and motivated by care for one another. They are particularly deep opportunities for personal growth and encounter. Russian, Greek, Hebrew, Spanish, Korean, Turkish, Thai, German and English are among the languages learning partners study together. The LRWC also offers a number of courses that teach and promote new ways of being critically active members of the community, including listening/speaking, reading/writing and study methods for theological education.

The LRWC is also the weekly site for ongoing conversations where students, faculty and staff gather to share a meal and to learn about a variety of topics. The main event is Global Conversations at the LRWC, which focuses on global concerns from the political to local, including the ministries of those among us from various cultural and social locations over lunch.

Lastly, there is a small art studio and meditation room available to students anytime to rest from the demands of seminary life and nurture your spirit. There is always hot coffee, tea, snacks and a refrigerator in which to keep your packed meals. Make the LRWC your living room! We welcome you to the 3rd floor of the LSTC building to discover what you have to contribute to the spirit of the LRWC and to benefit from what others are willing to give of themselves. If you have questions, stop by or call Rob Worley, LRWC Director (773-256-0707; rworley@mccormick.edu; LSTC 3rd floor, east wing, Room 301).

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE

The various offices in Administration and Finance are designed to promote smooth and efficient administrative services. We are responsible for the management of the Seminary's endowment, all student-related financial services, student financial planning, information technology, human resources, general services, and the maintenance and operation of our property and facilities.

Student Financial Planning

Meeting the financial demands of seminary education can be a challenging part of your life at McCormick. The Financial Aid Office is available to assist you in your educational preparation for ministry by providing financial planning and aid to those students who demonstrate financial need. While you are a McCormick student, ideally your best attention will be on your classes, academic work related to these classes and involvement in the worship life and broader community life of the Seminary. The primary goal of our office is to offer support and assistance in ways that are helpful so that financial issues do not become your focus while in school.

The Financial Aid Office also helps students seek funds from non-seminary sources, including scholarships and federal loans. The primary responsibility for initiating this process, however, rests with you. The seminary expects each student to examine diligently his/her financial preparedness to enter into or to remain in seminary well in advance of each year. Students should have available work income, health insurance, liquid assets, scholarships, grants or loans to meet all normal living expenses (i.e. those expenses that would be incurred in any situation; e.g., rent, personal expenses, utilities, etc.).

The Financial Aid Office seeks to help students complete their seminary studies with the lowest possible amount of indebtedness. Individual student financial budgeting and counseling is an important part of responsible borrowing.

The Financial Aid Office administers McCormick's need-based tuition grants, merit scholarships, external scholarships and provides counseling regarding the federal Direct Loan program. For more information, please contact Nathaniel Ramsey, Director of Financial Aid (773-947-6309; nramsey@mccormick.edu; office #232).

Finance Office and Student Accounts

Tuition, bills, invoices, student accounts, and payroll are managed by the Finance Office. Students will get to know Carmen Rollins (773-947-6260; carollins@mccormick.edu; office #232F), Director of Finance, who manages all accounting activities. The Finance Office is located on the second floor, east end, of the McCormick building.

Student Activities fee	$175	$55	$25
Technology fee	$75	$25	$25

Student Employment

Students often ask, "How many hours per week am I able to work while attending McCormick?" Human Resources Coordinator Ashley Woodfaulk (773-947-6261; awoodfaulk@mccormick.edu; office #211) is available to help answer this question and other employment-related questions you may have. Balancing work and academic pursuits is a significant challenge faced by seminarians. All available, part-time, student-eligible on-campus jobs are sent out by email to all students. Please apply for each job by contacting the listed supervisor. Some jobs are designated for Federal Work Study students. Please check with the Office of Student Financial Planning to verify your eligibility for Federal Work Study funding.

Please note: A student must be enrolled in good standing or accepted for enrollment to participate in McCormick on-campus student employment. A student can only work during a period of non-attendance if the student is planning to enroll for the next period of enrollment. (If you do not enroll during the next period of enrollment, your employment will terminate immediately.) Upon graduation, individuals are no longer eligible to work on campus in a student employment capacity; however, if graduation takes place in the middle of a pay period the individual may complete the pay period that ends immediately after graduation. In addition, student employees are not eligible for unemployment compensation.

Information Technology

An important aspect of our administrative services is Information Technology (network connectivity, application access and support, and computer assistance). Barbara Fassett (773-947-6365; barbarafassett@mccormick.edu; office #212) is the Director of Information Technology. Any questions regarding network, phones, media equipment and information technology can be addressed to mtssupport@mccormick.edu or 773-753-1835.

Administration and Facilities

Natasha Gaines, Director of Administration/Executive Administrative Assistant to the Executive Vice President and Chief Business Officer, ngaines@mccormick.edu; office #232B) manages operation of the reception desk and mailroom, administration and operation of parking, classroom scheduling, security, and the day to day maintenance and operations of property & facilities. Natasha is assisted administratively by Monica Williams. Natasha is also assisted in Property and Facilities by Luke Wallace and Armando Del Valle, outside contractors, and student workers. She is the supervisor for student employees in the mailroom/reception and security. OFFICE OF SEMINARY RELATIONS AND DEVELOPMENT

The Office of Seminary Relations and Development is responsible for advancing the Seminary's mission by planning and implementing the Seminary's fundraising and board development activities. We share McCormick's unique stories and invite others to become more engaged and support the work and mission of the Seminary. Our constituents include local, national and international church and organizational partners, beloved alumni/ae, current and former trustees and faculty.

You may not know that the cost to educate a student is more than the cost of tuition - even full tuition represents less than 10% of that cost. Thus, all students are supported by the gifts made by faithful McCormick donors, past and present. If you receive tuition assistance or a scholarship from McCormick, you have further benefited from the donors we work with and serve. Because of these relationships, we will often invite your participation to thank donors who make gifts either for specific scholarships you have received, for general student assistance or for other gifts and to help thank current donors in other ways for their annual gifts to the seminary. During the course of your time at McCormick, you may be invited to events where donors, alumni/ae and trustees gather, either to speak formally about your experience as a student at McCormick or to visit with people interested in supporting the mission of McCormick and share your story in a more casual setting. In addition, we may wish to work with you and feature you and your unique story in for a newsletter article, the annual report, or a fundraising appeal letter.

The development offices are located on the west side of the second floor. Staff members include:

Stephanie Moore, Director of Development
(773-947-6282; smoore@mccormick.edu; office #220)

Joyce Leachman, Administrative Support Coordinator

OFFICE OF COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND ALUMNI/AE RELATIONS

The Office for Community Engagement and Alumni Relations was established July 1, 2019 under the leadership of President David Crawford. Rev. Nannette Banks was appointed to serve as the Vice President.

The focus of “The Office” is to highlight McCormick’s Public Facing programs and the intersection of Classroom and Community. It is firmly believed that to have a full learning and training experience as students, community leaders, faculty, staff and pastors one must engage integrative learning – ensuring that perspectives emanate from disciplines, cultures, subcultures, or life experiences. One must also be aware of the tenants of community engagement (Matthews, David. "Connections 2008: Focus on Communities." Kettering Foundation, 2008);

1. Careful planning and Preparation.
2. Inclusion and Demographic Diversity.
3. Collaboration and Shared Purpose.
4. Openness and Learning.
5. Transparency and Trust.
6. Impact and Action.
7. Sustained Engagement and Participatory Culture.

The Office includes the Marketing and Communications department and the Solidarity Building Initiative for Liberative Carceral Education. These departments are essential to the ongoing work of community engagement which seeks to forge partnerships and collaborations with community stakeholders, organizations, other seminaries and congregations that seek to do justice. Our work is for the purpose of impacting lives, policies and programs which lead to just and sustainable communities, ultimately living out an embodied Gospel.

Our focus also centers on sustaining vital relationships with our Alumni through open lines of communications, collaborative work and continuing education. McCormick alumni are literally everywhere, giving us eyes that see beyond the walls of institutions and our responsibilities in, with and for the community.

As an institution of higher learning and theological education McCormick and the Office of Community Engagement seeks to deliver public facing programs and partnerships that are holistic and liberative without discounting history, the present or the future. It is our core belief that Community and Classroom are collaborators not competitors giving us the capacity for maximum social impact.

SECTION II: ADVISORY SYSTEM HANDBOOK

ADVISORY SYSTEM

The McCormick Theological Seminary Advisory System recognizes student initiative and responsibility and seeks to facilitate your personal and pastoral development. With faculty and OSS staff guidance through the advising process, you can plan your work at the Seminary and prepare for lifelong learning and self-assessment in your particular vocation.

The purposes and goals of the Advisory System are to:

1. develop a course of study that takes into account your educational and career goals, including a review of prior educational and work experience;
2. help you understand and meet requirements of your master's level degree program;
3. record reviews of progress and/or obstacles toward attaining the degree;
4. provide space for conversations about how courses, Field Studies, vocational interests, spiritual formation and personal growth are integrated in the degree program;
5. provide evaluation of personal growth and development;
6. offer assistance, in collaboration with the Office of Student Academics, to satisfy requirements of ordaining and certifying agency and denominational bodies.

The Advisory System is also designed to facilitate participation in the Language Resource and Writing Center (LRWC) which provides individualized tutoring in the areas of writing, listening, speaking and the continued development of academic skills. All students are encouraged to participate in the programs of the LRWC.

Faculty advisor assignments are made by the Office of Student Services in August, and your first meeting with a faculty advisor takes place during Orientation. Assigned faculty advisors may be changed by written request to the Office of Student Services after your first semester of studies.

POLICY ON CREDIT HOURS

Masters Level Courses

Traditional Classroom Instruction

McCormick masters level courses each carry three credit hours. The standard format for each course is to meet for three hours once a week for twelve weeks of the fourteen week semester, amounting to thirty-six contact hours. For every contact hour in class, masters level students are expected to engage in two hours of study, preparation, and assignments outside of class. In addition, during reading week, students are expected to spend nine hours of reading, research, and writing. During exam week, students are expected to spend at least nine hours in study, exam prep, research, or presentation. In some courses, an exam, presentation, or other activity during exam week may extend the number of contact hours in that course to thirty-nine hours.

In addition to the standard semester format, courses may be offered as a five-day intensive, a three-week intensive, or as an evening/weekend intensive. In each of these formats, students are provided thirty-six hours of in class contact. Each course may include a variety of pre-course and post-course assignments, as well as projects and online assignment and discussion options. In these alternate delivery formats, students are expected to spend the equivalent hours of study outside of class as expected in the semester delivery format.

The McCormick Master of Divinity degree consists of twenty-seven courses. All MDiv students also complete a year of supervised ministry amounting to approximately 350 hours. The McCormick Master of Arts in Ministry degree consists of sixteen courses, and includes a year of supervised ministry amounting to approximately 350 hours. The McCormick Master of Theological Studies degree consists of eighteen courses. In addition, MTS students compose a research thesis.

Online Instruction

McCormick masters level courses taught online each carry three credit hours. Each online course, as each traditional course, includes thirty-six contact hours, with synchronous in-course instruction and forums provided by the instructor for discussion, feedback, and revision of assignments. For every contact hour of class, students are expected to engage in two additional hours of study, including pre-course reading assignments and off-line asynchronous educational components such as participatory events, community surveys, group interviews, self-assessment and community assessment tasks, journal work, and directed readings. The number of contact and non-contact hours of study is thus equivalent to traditional courses.

ASSISTANCE FROM THE OFFICE OF STUDENT SERVICES

The Office of Student Services keeps track with you as you progress through your degree program. Progress toward degree requirements and course distribution information is updated after each term for which your grades are reported. Audits and other related educational activities (e.g., workshops, CPE, internships, reviews) are noted apart from graded course information.

While tracking and charting student progress will be done by the Office of Student Services and with your academic advisor, official academic records are kept by the Registrar's Office. In the case of a discrepancy over academic credits and student standing, the Registrar's records are the authoritative documents.

Procedural Information

- McCormick Theological Seminary operates on a semester system with a Fall Semester, a January-term (J-term), a Spring Semester and a May-term (Summer-term). Students may take up to four courses in the Fall and Spring semesters. Courses in January- and May-terms are taught as intensives (one or two weeks). Students may only take one course during J-term because all course work must be completed prior to the beginning of Spring semester. Students may take more than one course during May or June.
- Requests for transfer credit must be received and approved by your faculty advisor before your graduation review. Courses that are more than 10 years old cannot be accepted for transfer, and no more than half the courses from a previous degree can be transferred toward your McCormick degree.
- Students may take up to one-third of their courses through cross-registration with other ACTS schools (nine for MDIV, six for MTS and five for MAM). Prospective graduates may not take courses from other schools during the last semester prior to graduation.
- MDIV students may take up to three independent studies, limited to one per semester; MTS and MAM students may take up to two and are limited to one per semester. Ordinarily, an independent study will not be approved during your first or last semester, without permission of your faculty advisor and the Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support.
- Field introductory courses (300 level) should normally be taken prior to other upper level courses in a given field. Exemption from an introductory course may be granted following assessment of previous study and with the approval of your faculty advisor and consultation with the Field Convenor and the Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support.
- Weekly courses may be added prior to 4 p.m. on the last day of the first week of the semester. Courses can be dropped no later than 4 p.m. on the last day of the second week of the semester. Weekend intensive courses may be added no later than 4 pm Friday of the first session. Courses may be dropped no later than Monday after the first weekend session. Doing so within this timeframe is without financial penalty. Please see the McCormick Academic Catalog for complete information related to policies (found online at <http://mccormick.edu/content/registrars-office-0>)
- Students may withdraw from a class without academic penalty up to the last regular class session before exam week.
- Review your academic plan to monitor your progress and determine which courses are needed.
- Your faculty advisor will give you permission to register online after an advising session.
- Familiarize yourself with the student portal for the most recent updates regarding registration and advising.

MASTER'S LEVEL PROGRAMS

MASTER OF DIVINITY DEGREE (MDIV)

The goal of the Master of Divinity degree is the education of “women and men for service in Christian ministry and faithful leadership in God’s world.” The MDIV curriculum exhibits McCormick’s institutional marks (cross-cultural, urban, Reformed, ecumenical) in pursuit of the following learning outcomes:

1. Think critically
2. Construct theological meaning using Christian tradition
3. Communicate effectively
4. Exhibit cross-cultural competence
5. Exhibit pastoral imagination
6. Lead just and sustainable communities

The MDIV degree prepares individuals for ordained ministry in the Church and for vocations in:

- Pastoral ministry
- Teaching ministry
- Agency, governing body or ecumenical staff ministries
- Ministries of social service, including community organizations
- Chaplaincy in schools, colleges, hospitals, other agencies, or in the armed forces

The MDIV degree may be completed in three years of full time study. It must be completed within six years of matriculation into the program.

The MDIV degree is awarded for successful completion of an approved 27 courses which include academic, field based and integrative studies in the fields of Bible, History, Theology, Ethics and Ministry and a Healthy Boundaries Workshop.

MDIV Required Courses

Ten courses at the introductory level are required and are prerequisites to most other courses in their fields. These courses include methods, conceptual language, and a range of content basic to their fields, and are foundational for theological education at McCormick. Students with sufficient background in any of these fields may move directly to more advanced courses, following an assessment of their previous study by your faculty advisor, the Field Convener and the Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support.

- I-301 Pilgrimage in Faithfulness (PIF)
- I-302 Leadership Amidst Diversity (LAD)
- I-311 Academic Research and Writing
- B-300 Introduction to Biblical Studies (IBS)
- H-300/301 Church History Survey I and II
- T-300 Introduction to Christian Theology
- E-300 Introduction to Christian Ethics
- MIN-404/405 Reflection on the Practice of Ministry

The faculty requires a distribution of courses for the MDIV degree as follows:

- Integrative: two courses, I-301 and I-302
- Biblical Studies: five courses, including B-300, and at least two courses each in Old Testament and New Testament. The double courses of Hebrew Exegesis I and II and Greek Exegesis I and II may not be included in the distribution requirement, but are counted as open electives
- Church History: three courses, including H-300 and H301
- Theology: three courses, including T-300
- Christian Ethics: one course E-300
- Ministries: six courses, including MIN-404/405
- Open electives: seven courses

Healthy Boundaries Workshop

In addition to these courses, students are required to take the Healthy Boundaries Workshop. I 101 Healthy Boundaries is a graduation requirement for all Masters level students. This is a self-directed online course available on Alexandria upon registration. For students in the Master of Divinity and Master of Arts in Ministry degree programs, Healthy Boundaries must be completed prior to enrolling in Field Studies.

Students enrolled in the Master of Theological Studies degree program must complete the requirement prior to graduation. The course is offered during all semesters, Fall, Spring, J-Term and Summer Term.

I 101 Healthy Boundaries, acknowledges that keeping good boundaries and maintaining ethics are an innate part of self-care and of care for the body of Christ. This course will explore theological, contextual, personal and fiduciary aspects of ethical boundary keeping. It emphasizes the foundational identity and mission of the Christian community and our responsibilities as pastoral and ministerial leaders.

Concentrations

Concentrations can bring a special focus to your MDIV program. A concentration is four or more courses taken in a particular area of study. You may work closely with your academic advisor to shape your concentration which may be developed in any field. Some examples of concentrations within the MDIV degree program are:

- Christian Formation
- Cross-Cultural Ministry
- Discipline-Based Concentration (Liberation Theology, Reformed History, Early Church Studies)
- Independent Concentration
- Interfaith Ministry
- Presbyterian Studies
- Science and Ecology
- Urban Ministry
- Queer Studies

Biblical Exegesis

McCormick Theological Seminary is committed to teaching exegetical skills based on the Hebrew and Greek texts of the Bible. Because such skills must be demonstrated to pass the Standard Ordination Examination in Bible Exegesis given by the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), the two double courses in Hebrew and Greek are considered a normal part of the MDIV program for Presbyterian students. McCormick maintains that the full, double-course sequence in each language is needed to provide a foundation for exegetical competency. While language courses are not required for non-Presbyterian students seeking the MDIV degree, all students are welcome.

First semester biblical language courses (B-321 Intro to Hebrew Exegesis I and B-324 Intro to Greek Exegesis I) are offered in the Fall Semester. Second semester courses (B-322 Intro to Hebrew Exegesis II and B-325 Intro to Greek Exegesis II) are offered in the Spring Semester.

Experiential Education and Field Studies

The Experiential Education and Field Studies Program is designed to provide an integrative experience of study and reflection on the theology and practice of ministry. Students engaged in experiential education and field studies join in a process of spiritual, academic, personal and professional formation while simultaneously developing, practicing and refining the arts and skills of ministry. Students who are in good standing may register for field studies upon the completion of seven units.

A two-semester indivisible field studies course, designed to be taken sequentially during one academic year, is required of all Master of Divinity and Master of Arts in Ministry students enrolled in Field Studies. One unit of credit is granted for each semester for a total of two credits. It is expected that all students will satisfy this requirement in one of three ways:

- Participate in one academic year [September-May] of ministry under supervision within an approved ministry setting while enrolled in MIN-404/MIN-405 Reflection on the Practice of Ministry
- Receive transfer or equivalency credit from another accredited seminary or theological education program upon approval from the advisor and Director of Experiential Education and Field Studies
- Persons currently engaged in full-time Christian ministry will enroll in MIN- 404/MIN-405 Reflection on the Practice of Ministry and be assigned a mentoring pastor for reflection, guidance and evaluation

Optional MDIV Thesis

MDIV students may choose to write a thesis as part of their program. MDIV students who choose to write a thesis should plan to take I-311 Academic Research and Writing and I-478 Research Methods.

Readiness for Ministry

The awarding of a Master of Divinity degree from McCormick Theological Seminary is a statement by the Seminary that the graduate is educationally ready to consider and be considered by a presbytery or other church authority for ordination. The Seminary does not prejudge the conclusion that should be reached, nor does it substitute its judgment for that of the ordaining body. The faculty's judgment of each student's progress toward the degree and its final decision as to whether to recommend the student favorably to the Board of Trustees is based upon the satisfactory completion of educational requirements.

Candidates for the degree are cautioned that fulfillment of the formal academic requirements is a necessary but not the sole condition for graduation. The ability of persons to communicate with and relate effectively to peers and faculty, to act responsibly and with integrity as a member of the community, and to demonstrate capacity for ministry in field education settings are criteria which are important to the faculty in determining readiness for ministry.

Church Relationships

All students seeking Ordination are advised to sustain appropriate relationships with their respective Church governing bodies. Students are encouraged to connect with local Churches to pursue goals and requirements of particular denominations. Applicants who intend to seek ordination in the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) ordinarily should come under the care of a presbytery prior to entering the Seminary. If this is not possible, the applicant will plan to come under care of a presbytery by the conclusion of nine full courses. See page 62 for an outline of this process. Students from other denominations and traditions are advised to sustain appropriate relationships with their governing bodies.

Students should consult the Office of Student Academics regarding all aspects of relationships with presbytery committees and with presbyteries, as well as similar relationships in other denominations and traditions. The Seminary will assist students who have not already done so to initiate contact with their appropriate church governing bodies.

MDIV Dual Competency Degree Programs

McCormick Seminary, in conjunction with other schools, has developed a program whereby students in the MDIV degree program may enroll in an approved Master's Degree program in some coordinate discipline, such as social work, public policy, or information science. Students may also propose to the Assistant Dean a new dual competency degree program. Opportunities for dual competency degrees provide a broader preparation for ministry, allied with a coordinate field. Each student's program is individually designed in consultation with the faculty advisor and the Assistant Dean for Student Academics.

McCormick currently cooperates with the University of Chicago School of Social Service Administration (SSA), Loyola University School of Social Work, and Aurora University Graduate School of Social Work to offer coordinated degree programs in social work and ministry, and with Dominican University's Graduate School of Library and Information Science, to offer a dual degree MDIV/Masters in Library and Information Science.

Students who wish to undertake the McCormick MDIV as part of a dual competency degree program must indicate that desire during the admission process and be approved by the faculty advisor during the first term of studies after admission. Plans for participation in the dual competency degree program must be approved by the Assistant Dean before applications are made to the coordinate program.

Students must meet the degree requirements of the coordinate school and of the McCormick MDIV program, including the Healthy Boundaries Workshop and Field Education. Students are urged to be in conversation as early as possible with the coordinate school about requirements and the sequencing of required courses, field placements, or internships.

The Coordinated Program with the University of Chicago Divinity School, The Divinity School of the University of Chicago offers a coordinated program with McCormick which allows McCormick students to take courses at the University and facilitates application to the University's Ph.D. program. A McCormick MDIV student who wishes to pursue this program should consult with the Assistant Dean for Student Academics.

MASTER OF ARTS IN MINISTRY DEGREE (MAM)

The Master of Arts in Ministry degree provides basic theological education for ministers for whom the Master of Divinity is not required by their churches, for lay leaders, and those serving as commissioned elders and licensed pastors who are interested in general or specialized forms of ministry. Field studies in the second year will provide supervision and evaluation of the student's capacity to minister effectively.

The MAM curriculum exhibits McCormick's institutional marks (cross-cultural, urban, Reformed, ecumenical) in pursuit of the following learning outcomes:

1. Think critically
2. Construct theological meaning using Christian traditions
3. Communicate effectively
4. Exhibit cross-cultural competence
5. Serve effectively in congregational ministries

The MAM degree may be completed in two years of full-time study. It must be completed within four years.

Nine core courses, three ministry electives and four open electives are required for the degree. The core courses are foundational for theological education and ministry. In addition to these courses, students are required to take the Healthy Boundaries Workshop prior to beginning MIN-404/405 and the field studies placement. This six-hour workshop:

- Encourages consciously developing a healthy and balanced way of life in ministry in order to reduce the potential risk of clergy misconduct
- Raises consciousness of issues and identifies ethical conduct and healthy ministry relationships
- Provides resources for intervention and appropriate responses to unethical conduct by those in ministry

Master's level certificate programs at McCormick follows the mission of the Seminary as a whole, drawing on the resources of the Reformed tradition, while at the same time being intentionally ecumenical and cross-cultural.

Certificate in Theological Studies

The certificate program prepares persons to serve the Church as lay leaders or enables students to correlate theological study with university studies, leading to a graduate degree in another field. The program includes exposure to basic studies in the biblical, theological, and historical fields.

The Certificate in Theological Studies is awarded on successful completion of an approved program of 9 courses, including the courses Pilgrimage in Faithfulness (I-301), Leadership Across Diversity (I-302), and completion of the program within three years of the date of matriculation.

Black Church Studies Certificate

McCormick is the place for ministers to define the next twenty years of the Black Church movement. The Black Church Studies Certificate program brings together religious scholars and prophetic, compassionate leaders from Black Churches to guide students in rigorously studying the history, theology, and heritage of the church. The Black Church Studies Certificate is awarded on successful completion of an approved program of 6 courses.

Certificate for Latin@ Theology and Ministry

Taught in a bilingual model, this certificate provides the opportunity to study theology and ministry within the context of the Hispanic/Latin@ church and community today. The program brings together scholars and prophetic leaders with experience in the Hispanic/Latin@ context to guide, celebrate, and strengthen the formation and renewal of Latin@ church and community leaders. The Certificate in Latin@ Theology and Ministry is awarded on successful completion of an approved program of 6 courses.

Certificate in Environmental Leadership and Ministry

In partnership with Faith in Place, McCormick offers an interactive, cross-disciplinary approach to the faith-and-environment conversation. Our goal is to equip religious leaders with tools to further sustainable and just practices in their contexts. All students are guided in a final project that explores in-depth an issue or practice of ministry within their current context. The Certificate in Environmental Leadership and Ministry is awarded on successful completion of an intensive one-week course of study. Students may also take this intensive for masters or doctoral level credit, on completion of additional assignments set in the syllabus.

COMPONENTS OF THE ADVISORY SYSTEM

ORIENTATION

New students will meet with their faculty advisor and OSA staff prior to or during Fall Orientation. This will be a time for informal conversation about your background and goals, as well as a time to register for fall semester classes. During Orientation, your advisors will be informed if you have been admitted with any conditions that will affect your academic status, or have been recommended to the Language Resource and Writing Center (LRWC) for academic support services. It is important for you and your advisors to monitor how these various conditions and recommendations are met by your class selection decisions.

Continuing students will meet with their advisors by appointment and during registration periods.

REVIEW OF ACADEMIC PROGRESS AND REGISTRATION

At the time of registration for the upcoming semester, you will meet with your advisor to:

1. Review academic progress. It is especially important to monitor degree requirements including the sequencing of courses, Healthy Boundaries Workshop, etc.
2. Talk over any issues that bear on your work, course plan and other experiences, which shall lead to the timely and successful completion of the desired degree.
3. Review conditions and recommendations that may have been stipulated when you were admitted to McCormick. Advisors will be informed if an advisee is referred to the Student Affairs Committee by the Registrar and the Assistant Dean of Student Services, and information regarding action of the Committee is sent to your advisor at the time it is communicated to you (see the McCormick Academic Catalog.)
4. Review recommendations from the assessment of your writing samples. Plan your involvement with the LRWC.
5. Review the field studies requirement, vocational goals and denominational requirements for ordination and/or certification.
6. Review course selections for online registration clearance.

REQUIRED REVIEWS

Assessment of readiness for ministry through the advisory system includes bi-annual reviews and one graduation review for students in all masters' level degree programs. Progress through a degree program is documented in each review and faculty members who conduct the reviews make recommendations for graduation. Advisor reports on each review are kept in your file in the Office of Student Services.

In order to coordinate expectations of the Seminary and church committees, students will send their Graduation Presentation and written materials appropriate for their degree electronically one week prior to the Graduation Review. It is suggested that, where possible, statements and materials prepared for denominational requirements be used in the review process. The faculty advisor and another designated faculty member will conduct the reviews.

Bi-Annual Reviews

Bi-annual reviews are led by the faculty advisors and will be conducted during registration for courses. The advisor may prepare a report for your file after the review is completed.

These reviews may include:

- Review academic progress by looking at your transcript
- Identify any obstacles to progress and discuss how to address them
- Review vocational development
- Review first draft of a statement of faith (from T-300)
- Review issues of personal and spiritual growth
- Discuss spiritual practices (including participation in McCormick worship)
- Discuss the Field Studies experience
- Review involvement with the LRWC
- Materials for your Graduation Presentation

Materials to be submitted electronically to your advisor one (1) week in advance of the review:

1. Copy of the Autobiographical Statement from your Admissions application (on file in the Registrar's office).
2. Your written response to these questions:
 - In what ways are your classes, experiences in community life and worship, and your own spiritual practices contributing to your formation for religious vocation?
 - How would you describe your academic progress during this year in your degree program? What challenges have you faced?
 - In what ways are you being challenged and supported in your experiences in a community with diversity of faith traditions, languages and cultures?
 - What is your involvement with the LRWC and the JKM Library?
3. Field Studies – If you are enrolled in Field Studies at the time of this review, provide a copy of the Learning/Serving Covenant and respond to these questions:
 - What are you most hoping to learn during this year?
 - What gifts and abilities do you bring to this learning context?
4. Report on progress in meeting denominational, agency or ordination requirements.

For MDIV and MAM students, first draft of a statement of faith (developed in T-300) as a basis for reflection on the practice of ministry under supervision. Advisors will make sure T300 is included in the student's the first nine courses. If you are doing this review prior to taking T-300, then follow these guidelines: Write a brief (one page, single spaced) statement of faith in which you seek to express the central convictions of Christian faith in your own words. In preparation, we suggest reflecting upon the brief creeds of the early church (Apostles Creed and Nicene Creed). You might also consider any brief creeds accepted in your own denomination or faith tradition and how these documents express what is central to Christian faith. (A good example, produced by the PC(USA), is titled A Brief Statement of Faith. Read online at <http://www.presbyterianmission.org/what-we-believe/brief-statement-of-faith/>) How would you make a statement of Christian faith in your own way and in your own words?

MDIV and MAM Graduation Review

This review will occur at the beginning of the student's last semester, and will include a review of the Graduation Presentation (which includes academic work, the option to add a concentration to your program, statements of faith, documents from Field Studies, and reflection on vocational and spiritual growth). McCormick has designated March 23-27, 2020 as Graduation Review week. The reviews will be coordinated by the Office of Student Academics and details will be sent to graduating students the first week of their final Spring semester. Faculty advisors will communicate the successful completion of the Graduation Review and a recommendation regarding graduation to the Office of Student Academics.

This review is designed to give you a time for reflection on your McCormick experience, a place to tell your story and a chance to listen to the stories of others in your group. The documents which you prepare for the review will be sent online to the students and faculty members in your small group one week prior to the date of the review.

Statement on Vocational and Spiritual Growth

A central part of the graduation review is to engage your statement on vocational and spiritual growth. In 3-5 pages, please respond to the following questions based on your experience in your degree program. Connecting these questions with examples from classes, readings and/or experiences in community and field education is encouraged.

1. How has your educational experience furthered your growth in:
 - Your knowledge and ability to interpret the Christian tradition?
 - Your ability to understand and analyze social location, cultural dynamics, and how persons are shaped by them?
 - Your ability to work and worship with people from different social and religious backgrounds?
 - Your ability to serve as a leader with congregations or other religious organizations?
 - Your vocational and spiritual identity?
2. In what areas have you experienced the most growth? The least? In what ways have your various courses expanded your own knowledge and experiences? In what ways have these courses prepared you for leadership in the church and/or community?
3. What are your plans for employment and ongoing growth after graduation?
4. What advice do you have for McCormick's growth and development as a theological school?
5. MDIV students who are writing a thesis will also participate in a review process as described for the MTS on pages 55-56.

Occasionally, it may be best for a student to have an individual review. When this is deemed appropriate, the faculty advisor will make arrangements accordingly. If, for any reason, a student's graduation is postponed or questioned, the decision will be communicated privately to the student in an appropriate setting apart from the group review. Guidelines, including expectations about confidentiality, will be distributed to the review groups by the Office of Student Academics.

MTS Graduation Review

In addition to annual conversations with faculty, faculty conduct a graduation review with each MTS student. The review for students writing a thesis must be completed no later than April 15, 2020. Students who will not write a thesis must complete their review during Graduation Review Week, March 23 – 27, 2020.

The review will be the oral defense of the Master's thesis, the summative project in the student's degree program. Students who do not write a thesis will have their graduation review focused on the Graduation Presentation which they will submit. The presentation should include the research paper written for I-478 Research Methods.

Two faculty members will conduct the review: a faculty member from the student's field of concentration and the student's faculty advisor (or someone appointed to act in her/his behalf). The advisor will be responsible for setting the date for the review and writing up the review report.

All review documents should be submitted electronically to Thehil Singh, Coordinator of Student Success (773-947-6317; osa@mccormick.edu ; office #357), and to the faculty members participating in the review. Preliminary drafts of the thesis are due no later than the end of March, and Graduation presentations are due at the end of January.

The review will include:

1. A brief conversation (10-15 minutes) led by the student about her/his academic work as represented in the thesis or the presentation.

Students defending a thesis should be prepared to articulate the central argument of the thesis, describe their research methods, discuss the academic grounding of the thesis, and present the major conclusions of the thesis.

Students presenting a Graduation Presentation should be prepared to articulate the arguments found in their I-478 research paper, discuss their research methods and academic foundations, and present their findings.

2. Following the student's presentation, the faculty members will engage in a discussion with the student about the written work, research, writing and the student's scholarly development.
3. Students should also be prepared to discuss briefly their response to the following questions:
 - What are your vocational plans after graduation and how has this degree program prepared you?
 - In what ways has your experience at McCormick challenged and prompted your growth spiritually and theologically?
 - How can McCormick improve its academic programs and community life?

GRADUATION PRESENTATIONS

All McCormick master's students compile a Graduation Presentation using the Alexandria (D2L) learning management platform as part of their graduation requirements. This Graduation Presentation includes specific, relevant examples of the work they have done as McCormick students in courses, field education and other parts of their seminary journey. All McCormick master's students are highly encouraged to begin using their ePortfolio function from the beginning of their academic program as a repository to archive their work. These presentations are used to help McCormick's faculty assess the extent to which they are achieving the academic goals that the school has set. In effect, the submission of Graduation presentations contributes to a process by which professors and McCormick are assessed. This process is part of the larger program of assessment of student learning, which McCormick is required to do by its accrediting agencies (the Association of Theological Schools and the Higher Learning Commission).

You will be invited to attend workshops (in October, November and January) that teach you how to compile/develop this presentation. Please make plans to attend one of the workshops.

Every Graduation Presentation will include several common items, which we are calling "artifacts":

1. Work that a student has done in courses, field study placement, local church ministry or other vocational or volunteer settings, which demonstrate the student's ability to meet the learning objectives in her or his degree program. More detail about this below*
2. A 4-5 page written statement that includes:
 - A discussion about what the student has learned with regard to each learning outcome, and a brief explanation of why each artifact is included in the Graduation Presentation
 - Reflection on how the student has grown in knowledge, skills, vocational understanding and spiritual formation while at McCormick
 - Suggestions for how McCormick can improve
3. The student's statement of faith from T-300 Introduction to Christian Theology.
4. A resume appropriate for her or his vocational goals.
5. A list of references that can be used as the student seeks employment.
6. A one page vocational statement.

*For each learning outcome in her or his degree program (listed below), a student should submit two artifacts that demonstrate achievement in the outcome. At least one artifact for each outcome should be from McCormick coursework. The second artifact may be from McCormick coursework, but it can also be an artifact from another area of a student's life (work done in a local church or a secular job, for example). The second artifact should also demonstrate a student's mastery of that learning outcome.

All graduating seniors must include two artifacts that demonstrate achievement of these common learning outcomes:

1. Think critically.
2. Construct theological meaning using Christian traditions.
3. Communicate effectively.
4. Exhibit cross cultural competence.

Graduating seniors must also include two artifacts that demonstrate achievement of degree specific outcomes, which are listed below:

Additional MDIV presentation components

- Exhibit pastoral imagination
- Lead sustainable and just communities

Additional MAM presentation components

- Serve effectively in congregational ministries

Additional MTS presentation components

- Engage in theological research and analysis based upon an argument, and construct a theological essay or thesis article

Every Graduation Presentation should include at least one artifact from work a student has done in each of the following fields: Bible, Church History, Theology, Ethics, and Ministry.

1. What is your general assessment of how the advisory system has aided you in achieving your academic and vocational goals?

2. What aspects of your relationship with your advisor were most helpful?

3. What aspects of your relationship with your advisor were least helpful?

4. What suggestions would you make for improving the advisory system?

5. Other comments you wish to offer:

PROCESS AND TIMELINE FOR THE MTS AND MDIV THESIS

All MTS students will take I-478 Research Methods. Students of the MTS program can decide whether to write a thesis or defend the research paper for I-478 Research Methods. MDIV students who elect to write a thesis will take I-311 and I-478.

FALL AND SPRING (first year MTS students and second year MDIV students)

September – March	MTS/MDIV students work with their faculty advisors in discerning whether or not to write a thesis and, if so, identifying a topic for a thesis. If MTS/MDIV students decide to write a thesis, they will talk to and agree with a faculty member to become her/his thesis advisor and they will agree on a research topic. All MTS students and MDIV students writing a thesis will register for the Fall course I-311 Academic Research and Writing unless it has been waived by the Director of the LRWC.
April	Every MTS student will submit a request form indicating the choice of either defending a research paper or writing a thesis (see appendix). This form will be signed by the faculty advisor. If writing a thesis, the student will provide the name of the advisor and the research topic. This form will be filed with the Coordinator of Student Success. MDIV students who wish to write a thesis will submit a request form, signed by their faculty advisor, giving the name of the thesis advisor and the research topic. The Coordinator will pass this information to the professor teaching I-478 Research Methods in the fall. Faculty members are expected to supervise up to two master theses as part of their regular load. If the faculty advisor is selected by the student to be the thesis advisor, the professor of I-478 Research Methods will consult with another faculty member to become the second reader for the thesis. If the student selects a thesis advisor who is other than her/his faculty advisor, then the faculty advisor will be the second reader for the thesis. All MTS students, and MDIV students writing a thesis, will register for the fall course I-478 Research Methods.

FALL AND SPRING (second year MTS students and third year MDIV students)

September	Students begin thesis work in I-478 Research Methods and the thesis advisor monitors the progress of thesis work.
Early November	By early-November, the professors of I-478 Research Methods and the thesis advisors confer on whether the student has made sufficient progress and shows the ability to complete quality thesis work. They decide whether to grant permission to write a thesis or request the MTS student to defend the research paper for I-478. The thesis advisor shares this decision with the student and reports it to the faculty advisor and the Coordinator for the Office of Student Academics.
Mid November	Students register for the spring. If they receive permission to continue with thesis work, they will register for an additional unit of thesis work in the spring (I-479). If permission is not granted, the student may register for a regular course, if it is needed.
Early December	By early December, the Assistant Dean of Student Services, in consultation with the student and faculty members, will assign second readers for the Thesis Review Committees.
December	Students submit the research paper for I-478 Research Methods. This will be the base text for the thesis. The professor of I-478 will send a copy of the graded paper to both the thesis/faculty advisor and the second reader.
February – March	The thesis advisor monitors the thesis progress.
Late March	Deadline for students to submit theses to thesis advisors and second readers. The thesis advisor coordinates the date for thesis defense that should take place no later than the date prescribed in the OSA calendar.
Late April	Last day for thesis defense noted in the OSA calendar. The Thesis Review Committee will certify the acceptance of the thesis or specify what revisions/changes must be made in order for the thesis to be certified as acceptable. The second reader, who will be the scribe in that meeting, will send a report on the results to the Coordinator of Student Success. If changes/revisions are required, the student will submit an updated version of the thesis to the thesis advisor for its final approval.
April 15 – 30	Students revise theses and thesis advisors approve the final version. The thesis advisor will send a certification on the final approval to the Coordinator of Student Success. Students will contact the JKM Library to receive instructions on how to submit a copy of the thesis to the Library.
Early May	Students submit one copy of the certified thesis in its final form to the JKM Library and an electronic copy of the thesis to the Coordinator of Student Success.

ACADEMIC YEAR 2021-2022 WORKSHOPS

Healthy Boundaries Workshop

I 101 Healthy Boundaries is a graduation requirement for all Masters level students. This is a self-directed online course available on Alexandria upon registration. For students in the Master of Divinity and Master of Arts in Ministry degree programs, Healthy Boundaries must be completed prior to enrolling in Field Studies.

Students enrolled in the Master of Theological Studies degree program must also complete the requirement prior to graduation. The course is offered during all semesters, Fall, Spring, J-Term and Summer Term.

I 101 Healthy Boundaries, acknowledges that keeping good boundaries and maintaining ethics are an innate part of self-care and of care for the body of Christ. This course will explore theological, contextual, personal and fiduciary aspects of ethical boundary keeping. It emphasizes the foundational identity and mission of the Christian community and our responsibilities as pastoral and ministerial leaders.

THE LANGUAGE RESOURCE AND WRITING CENTER (LRWC) AND THE ADVISING SYSTEM

Based on both a listening/speaking assessment and the writing assessment submitted at the time of admission, students may be directed to participate in the LRWC courses in the reading/writing sequence or the listening/speaking sequence, and/or the course on Study Methods for Theological Education. An assigned number of hours with a learning partner may also be recommended. Course and partnering requirements will vary with the assessment evaluations.

Ordinarily, students will be notified at orientation of any requirements for LRWC work. Students not meeting their obligations for work at the LRWC will be notified, together with the Registrar, the Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support and their advisor prior to the time of registration for the next semester. At registration time, advisors will receive a report from the LRWC regarding student progress and directives for the succeeding semester. Failure to comply with the LRWC recommendations may result in a referral to the Student Affairs Committee.

When processing registration forms, advisors give careful attention to planning the student's time for classes and LRWC participation. Courses taken at the LRWC should be included on the course registration form.

Instructors may refer the student (using the LRWC referral form) to the LRWC for work with a learning partner or possible workshop participation. If there are questions concerning a student's participation, instructors should consult the LRWC Director, Rob Worley (773-256-0707; rworley@mccormick.edu; LSTC 3rd floor, east wing).

The LRWC provides a full range of support to enhance the skills of all students. Individual tutoring is also available to all students. Workshops and classes are available as follows:

- Development of Academic Skills
- Study Methods in Theological Education
- Writing and Revision
- Listening/Speaking
- Reading

All students are encouraged to participate in the programs of the LRWC. Contact us by calling 773-256-0707, emailing LRWC Director Rob Worley (rworley@mccormick.edu) or stopping by the LRWC (LSTC 3rd floor, east wing).

PC(USA) ORDINATION PROCESS – ADVISING STUDENTS

Ordained PC(USA) faculty are the best guides through the PC(USA) ordination process. Professor Anna Case-Winters (773-847-6321; acase-winters@mccormick.edu; office #309) and other Presbyterian faculty reach out to PC(USA) students during the year. The PC(USA) has information about the ordination process on its website. Familiarize yourself with what is covered there. Here are some general guidelines that might help you in this process:

Before matriculation at McCormick:

- Talk to your pastor and the Session of your congregation to begin the inquiry process
- Contact your Committee on Preparation for Ministry (CPM) to come under care as an Inquirer
- Clarify your CPM's specific course requirements (whether you can take courses pass/fail, etc.)

First year of seminary:

- Take a biblical language sequence – either Hebrew or Greek
- Take Presbyterian Polity at your earliest opportunity. It is offered every two years.
- Have your annual consultation with your CPM
- Consult with your CPM about your Field Studies requirement BEFORE you begin considering field sites. Does the committee require a congregational placement?
- Take the Bible Content Exam on campus at the LRWC (sign up through the PC(USA) website <https://exams.pcusa.org> to take the exam in September or February)
- Complete as many introductory courses as possible
- If your CPM approves, you may proceed to take your vocational/psychological assessment. They will select the assessment agency. Mid-West Ministries is a good local agency.

Second year of seminary:

- Take a biblical language sequence—either Hebrew or Greek
- Take Reformed Tradition. It is offered every two years.
- Take Worship and Sacraments this year or next.
- In J-Term take Presbyterian Polity (if you have not already done so)
- A year after becoming an Inquirer, contact your pastor and your CPM to begin the process towards becoming a Candidate
- Take your vocational/psychological assessment as directed by your CPM, if you have not already done so
- Courses that should be completed include: MIN 404/405; Reformed tradition (H/T-402); Biblical languages; worship; preaching; polity (MPL-307, J-term only). Students are advised to take a course each in Reformed Worship and Sacraments (MWP-451) and American Presbyterian history (H-434)

Senior year:

- Take Reformed Tradition if you have not already done so.
- Take the Standard Ordination Exams online. For information and preparation guidance see the PC(USA) website link for exams: <https://oga.pusa.org/section/mid-council-ministries/prep4min/standard-ordination-exams/>
- Complete the Senior Profile
- Complete the Personal Information Form
- Attend seminars offered by the Seminary

- Be approved by your CPM to circulate the Personal Information Form and to receive a call

EXCHANGING A GRANTED DEGREE FOR A NEW DEGREE

Students who wish to apply all course units from a completed McCormick Theological Seminary degree to count toward another McCormick degree program may do so, but only by relinquishing their completed degree. For example, a student who has completed the Master of Theological Studies degree may wish to use all completed course units to pursue the MDIV program. In such cases, the first [McCormick] degree is surrendered. Contact Chandra Wade, Registrar & Director of Student Records, (773-947-6285; cwade@mccormick.edu; office #355) for details.

PROCEDURES FOR DEGREE RECLASSIFICATION

Any student in any of McCormick's master's level degree programs is welcome to apply for reclassification into another master's level degree program provided that a minimum of one semester of grades has been posted to her/his McCormick academic transcript. The student must consult with and have the written approval of the Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support before a request for reclassification can be granted. The following requirements apply:

Students-at-large

Those who are taking courses as a Student-at-large can take up to six courses. If a Student-at-large wishes to apply to a degree program, they must complete the entire master's level degree application and be admitted to a degree program by the Admissions Committee. For questions about admission to the master's program, consult Veronica Johnson, Senior Director of Admissions and Enrollment (773-947-6319; vjohnson@mccormick.edu; office #209).

Reclassification to MDIV, MTS and MAM

Students interested in reclassifying to the MDIV, MTS, or MAM degree should:

1. Contact David Watkins, Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support (773-947-6314; dwatkins@mccormick.edu office #356) indicating the request to reclassify and for approval of the reclassification.
2. Complete a Degree Reclassification Form (available on the Student portal)

QUICK GUIDE TO CREDIT TRANSFER POLICY

Courses from another master's program (completed or partially completed) may be transferred to a McCormick degree program under the following conditions:

- The course was taken within the last 10 years
- The course was taken at an accredited institution in the US or overseas
- The student has received a B grade or higher in the course to be transferred
- The student has a statement of good standing from each seminary attended prior
- The course is the equivalent of 3 hours of credit (three 1 hour courses could be transferred as 1 course; for example, Korean students often take the equivalent of MIN404-405 as a series of 1 hour courses; these may be combined to count as equivalency/transfer)
- The course is equivalent to a course offering at McCormick
- No more than half of the courses from a previous degree may be transferred
- No more than half of the courses credited toward a McCormick degree may be transferred
- McCormick distribution requirements should be considered when approving transfer courses
- Courses that are more than 10 years old cannot be accepted for transfer and no more than half the courses from a previous degree can be transferred toward your McCormick degree.

If you are inquiring about transfer of credit for required foundational courses for the MDIV degree (B300, H300/301, T300, E300), you will need to provide a copy of the syllabus for coursework you have taken.

Fill out the Request for Transfer of Credit form and attach an official copy of your transcript. Submit to the Assistant Dean for Student Academics and Support.

SECTION III: STUDENT POLICIES HANDBOOK

WHY THIS COLLECTION OF POLICIES?

Every organization and community makes binding decisions along the way. Sometimes these decisions are hidden and unavailable. We have gathered these policies, statements and decisions for you to provide some indication of the kind of community McCormick is striving to be. One step in that oneness is to make available our policies, statements, and commitments.

These policies are designed to offer guidelines for how we live, work, and study together. You are encouraged to read each policy in full as you will be expected to honor them in our life together.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

GUIDELINES FOR RESEARCH PAPERS

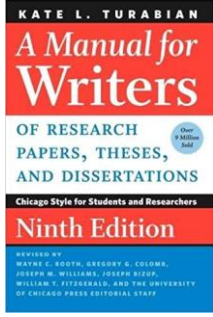

When you enter the arena of theological scholarship, you become part of a historic and ongoing conversation. As you contribute to this conversation through your papers, your work should contain your own ideas and words, but it should also be informed by the ideas of others. When incorporating the words or ideas of others in your own work, you must always give credit to whom it is due through the proper citation of your source. In order to avoid plagiarism, the improper use of another's words or ideas, read carefully McCormick's official guidelines. If you have any questions regarding fair use and plagiarism, ask and resolve those questions before you submit your work.

The guidelines below are designed to provide you with basic information about the proper form for writing papers in the various fields of theological scholarship. They do not give you all of the details but tell you where you can find them and what standards are expected. They have been drawn up by the faculty and should be followed in your written work in all of your courses at McCormick.

Sources for Research Paper Form

The basic source and final authority for proper form in the composition of a research paper in theological studies is The Chicago Manual of Style published by the University of Chicago Press. This is a rather large and expensive reference work and is available in the reference section of JKM Library, and at the LRWC. For a helpful online overview with examples from the publisher, see:
www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html

The key information in The Chicago Manual of Style has been summarized in a shorter and more affordable work first compiled by Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Thesis and Dissertations, now in its ninth edition, revisions by Wayne C. Booth, Joseph M. Williams, and Gregory G. Colomb, and published by the University of Chicago, 2013. This text is available in most bookstores and any online vendor. We strongly recommend that all McCormick students buy this book and use it as their guide for paper form.

The instructions that follow are based on these sources and are meant to highlight those guidelines of which you should take special note.

Citing Secondary Sources

McCormick has selected the notes-bibliography style of citation for all course papers and publications. For an overview of this method of citation, see chapters 16 and 17 of Turabian's A Manual for Writers, 9th edition. These chapters provide many examples of proper citation.

Citation method: Notes-Bibliography style

In this citation method, references to sources are placed in either footnotes or endnotes, and the sources referred to in these footnotes or endnotes are also collected at the end of the essay in a bibliography. Here is an example of a source cited as a footnote or endnote, then as a bibliography entry:

Example of a footnote or endnote:

¹G. Ernest Wright, God Who Acts: Biblical Theology as Recital (London: SCM Press, 1952), 54.

Example of a bibliography entry:

Wright, G. Ernest. God Who Acts: Biblical Theology as Recital. London: SCM Press, 1952.

A Special Note on Citing by Author

Whenever possible, cite a work by its author. This is especially important to remember in two particular situations. Rather than following Turabian's guidelines for citing such an article, we would prefer the following form:

The first situation includes dictionaries, encyclopedias, and one-volume Bible commentaries. Whenever an article in such a work is attributed to a particular author, cite it by the name of the author rather than by the name of the dictionary, encyclopedia, commentary, or by the name of its editor. Since McCormick follows the notes-bibliography citation style, cite the article in this way:

Example of a footnote or endnote:

¹Hans Dieter Betz and Margaret M. Mitchell, "Corinthians, First Epistle to the," in The Anchor Bible Dictionary, ed. David Noel Freedman (New York: Doubleday, 1992), 1:1142.

Example of a bibliography entry:

Betz, Hans Dieter, and Margaret M. Mitchell. "Corinthians, First Epistle to the." in The Anchor Bible Dictionary, ed. David Noel Freedman, 1:1139-48. New York: Doubleday, 1992.

A second situation involves the notes in study Bibles. You may cite these in a paper, but you should identify the author of the notes for the biblical book on which you are working, who is usually identified in the introduction to the book or in the front matter, and you should cite the note by the name of this author. Citations in a note and a bibliography would look like this:

Example of a footnote or endnote for a reference to a note in a study Bible:

¹Dennis C. Duling, notes to "Matthew," in The HarperCollins Study Bible, ed. Wayne A. Meeks (New York: HarperCollins, 1993), 1859.

Example of a bibliography entry for a reference to a note in a study Bible:

Duling, Dennis C. Notes to "Matthew." in The HarperCollins Study Bible, Ed. Wayne A. Meeks, 1859. New York: HarperCollins, 1993.

Citing the Bible

The guidelines that follow are drawn largely from The SBL Handbook of Style for Ancient Near Eastern, Biblical, and Early Christian Studies, edited by Patrick Alexander, John F. Kutsko, James D. Ernest, Shirley Decker-Lucke, and David L. Peterson. Peabody, Massachusetts: Hendrickson Publishers, Inc., 1999. This handbook is the primary guide for research in biblical studies. A PDF version is available online at various sites, including: www.sbl-site.org/assets/pdfs/MembersOnly/SBLHS.pdf

I. Method of citation

References to the Bible (book, chapter, verse) should be provided within the text of your essay rather than in footnotes or endnotes, unless you are providing a long list of references that would break up the flow of the text. It is usually preferable to place these references in parentheses, with sentence punctuation always following the parentheses:

In the first account of creation, man and woman are created together on the sixth day (Gen 1:26-27).

Or you may wish to mention the biblical reference directly in your text:

The creation of humanity in the first account of creation is described in Gen 1:26-27.

When you wish to quote the Bible directly, place the biblical reference in parentheses directly after the quotation, with sentence punctuation following the parentheses:

In the first account of creation, the sun and moon are referred to only as "the two great lights" (Gen 1:16).

The Bible itself need not be included in your bibliography or reference list.

II. Abbreviations

Books of the Bible cited by themselves, without chapter or chapter and verse, should be spelled out in the main text. When cited with chapter or chapter and verse, books of the Bible should be abbreviated, unless they come at the beginning of a sentence. Abbreviations of biblical books do not have periods following them: Gen 1:12. All occurrences of biblical books in parentheses and endnotes or footnotes should be abbreviated. The words chapter/chapters should be abbreviated ch./chs., and the words verse/verses should be abbreviated v./vv.(with periods).

These are the abbreviations of the names of biblical books (with the Apocrypha):

Gen	Cant	1-2-3-4 Kgdms	John
Exod	Isa	Add Esth	Acts
Lev	Jer	Bar	Rom
Num	Lam	Bel	1-2 Cor
Deut	Ezek	1-2 Esdr	Gal
Josh	Dan	4 Ezra	Eph
Judg	Hos	Jdt	Phil
Ruth	Joel	Ep Jer	Col
1-2 Sam	Amos	1-2-3-4 Macc	1-2 Thess
1-2 Kgs	Obad	Pr Azar	1-2 Tim

Job	Zeph	Wis	1-2 Pet
Ps (pl: Pss)	Hag	Matt	1-2-3 John
Prov	Zech	Mark	Jude
Eccl (or Qoh)	Mal	Luke	Rev

III. Edition and Translation

You need not provide publishing information in a footnote, endnote, or bibliography for the edition of the Bible you are using. Nor do you need ordinarily to identify the particular translation or version you are using. Occasionally, when the exact wording of a particular translation is crucial to your interpretation, you may wish to identify the translation that you have used. In this case, provide an abbreviation for the translation together with the biblical reference. Thus,

“In the beginning when God created the heavens and the earth...” (Gen 1:1 NRSV).

These are the abbreviations for major recent translations:

POLICY ON INCLUSIVE LANGUAGE

The Seminary has made its expectations for the use of inclusive language known in several ways beginning with the Board of Directors' action on October 28, 1976. McCormick usage is consistent with the PC(USA) General Assembly recommendation for inclusive language in all church documents. What follows is the official statement adopted by the 197th General Assembly of Presbyterian Church (USA):

Inclusive Language—Definition and Guidelines

Adopted by the 197th General Assembly (1985)

Introduction

In recent years, the Presbyterian Church has become aware that the diversity of culture, gender, class, and race which is present in the church and in the world often is not reflected in the language of the church. This has led to the development of study papers by both predecessor churches which explore and affirm the use of inclusive language in speaking of people and in speaking of God.

The definition and guidelines that follow deal with the inclusiveness of language used by the church in every area of its life. The church, including our own, are participating in a discussion about the problems of inclusive language. The guidelines that follow are not meant to obviate the importance of that continuing discussion, but rather to furnish some guidelines at the present time, when special sensitivity to the significance and use of language is required.

The Presbyterian Church is a multilingual church and the issue of inclusive language exists cross- culturally. This statement acknowledges this and deals with it illustratively in Guideline 2.B.

It is important that all of us remember that our basic unity under "one Lord, one faith, one baptism..." far exceeds the issues that would separate us. Those who speak are to take care to be as responsibly inclusive as possible thus showing their care for the feelings of others. Those who hear are to exercise an equal responsibility to listen with love. It is far too easy to accuse one another of being too inclusive or too exclusive rather than trying to listen and speak to each other thoughtfully and with love. The use of language in new ways or the employment of unfamiliar terminology and imagery does not come easily or automatically, but we urge a willingness to explore new possibilities in language even as we improve understanding and sensitivity on the part of all.

Definitions and Guidelines

A concern for inclusive language bespeaks the church's emerging conviction both that the diversity of the people of God is to be acknowledged and embraced in such a way that all may feel included, as well as the realization that every reference to God is limited in its capacity to express the reality and mystery of the One who has so variously encountered us. For the sake of guidance within the church the following working definition and guidelines for inclusive language are offered.

Definition 1 -- Inclusive language with reference to the people of God:

Language that intentionally seeks to acknowledge the diversity of the membership of the church in such a way that each person may feel included, addressed, and equally valued before God (e.g., "brothers and sisters," rather than "brethren"; "God's children," rather than "sons of God"; "our ancestors" or "our mothers and fathers" rather than simply "our fathers").

Guideline 1.A. Effort should be made at every level in the life of the church to use inclusive language with respect to the people of God. By seeking to substitute a word such as "humankind," for the more traditional generic terms "man" or "mankind", as well as by seeking to avoid exclusive dependence on the personal pronoun "he," we testify to the fact that women and men are called by God into service and are equally valued before God and the community of believers. Further, we show responsible sensitivity to the many women and men who are offended when exclusive language is used.

Guideline 1.B. The reading of Scripture in the context of worship is an especially important event for the church. Careful preparation is advised. Decisions to use inclusive language are in order when the lector has been able to discern that the intention of the original text is preserved (e.g., "those of faith" instead of "those who are men of faith"; "no one is justified" instead of "no man is justified"; "therefore, friends" instead of "therefore, brethren"). When standard translations are altered in the effort to render them more inclusive, proper acknowledgment is in order. If especially unfamiliar translations or paraphrases (e.g., An Inclusive Language Lectionary or The Living Bible) are to be used, they should be identified for the congregation so that the unfamiliarity of a particular reading will not unduly distract the hearers from proper attention to the reading.

Definition 2 -- Inclusive language with reference to God:

Language which intentionally seeks to express the diverse ways the Bible and our theological tradition speak about God: e.g., one who delivers, champions, and befriends as well as "Savior" and "Lord"; one who acts as guardian, parent, begetter and bearer of children as well as "Creator" and "Heavenly Father"; one who serves as rock, shelter, fortress as well as "the Almighty" or "King."

Guideline 2.A. Our language about God should be as intentionally diverse and varied as is that of the Bible and our theological tradition. This diversity should be reflected in the language and life of the church. Rather than using only a small number of terms referring to God (e.g., "Father," "Creator," "Lord," "Almighty"), we should seek to employ the rich reservoir of imagery to be found in the New and Old Testaments. God is appropriately addressed as "Father," but many other terms may also be used legitimately and with great benefit in referring to God. Our understanding of the richness of God may be enhanced by using other metaphors and similes such as "Rock," "Refuge," "Foundation," "Helper," "Shepherd," et al. Although maternal qualities are ascribed to God in Scripture, the title "Mother" is not applied to God in the Bible and its use is currently under debate. Our theological tradition also supplies language that may be useful in speaking about God (e.g., the Triune One, the Ground of Being, the Divine One, the Other, et al.).

Guideline 2.B. In some languages such as Spanish, in which nouns and their modifiers are grammatically either masculine or feminine, additional care must be exercised in order to be both inclusive and theologically sound. For example, the word "Dios" (God), grammatically a masculine form in Spanish, may only be modified by a masculine definite article, or by masculine adjectives ("el Dios de Israel," "the God of Israel"; or "buen Dios," "good God"; or "Dios es misericordioso," "God is merciful"). In these cases, the use of masculine signifiers (el, buen, misericordioso) required by the rules of grammar may reinforce a theologically inappropriate impression that the One signified is a being of masculine gender. Such an impression may be avoided by balancing the liturgical and homiletical use of grammatically masculine signifiers with appropriate referential terms that are grammatically feminine (e.g., "roca," "rock"; "fortaleza," "fortress"; "esperanza," "hope"), and by highlighting biblical similes for divine activity--for example, "nursing the children of Israel like a mother"-- which correct the possible wrongful implication of divine maleness. The use of inclusive language may or may not pose problems in the worship of other language speakers (e.g., Asians, Africans, and Native Americans).

Guideline 2.C. The Trinitarian designation, "Father-Son-Holy Spirit," is an ancient creedal formula and as such should not be altered. It is deeply rooted in our theological tradition, is shared widely by the church catholic, and is basic to many of our ecumenical relationships. It is not theologically acceptable to refer to the persons of the Trinity in terms of function alone (e.g., Shepherd, Helper, Refuge, Creator, Redeemer, Sanctifier). The church needs to seek new terms which refer to the being of the persons of the Trinity (cf. Calvin Institutes I.13. 5, 16, 17). While the language of the Trinitarian formula should remain unchanged, we must still remember that this formula is not the only way by which we refer to God, and that efforts to express the fullness of our knowledge of God in terms of being and function are to be encouraged.

Guideline 2.D. The personal pronouns "he," "his," and "him," are used with reference to God with great frequency. Biblical usage is often cited in justification though it is clear that the writers of the Bible did not think God was a man. The use of nouns rather than masculine pronouns is desirable (e.g. "God shows God's love" for "God shows his love," "praise God's name" for "praise his name"). The interchanging of feminine with masculine pronouns so that it calls attention to itself seems to emphasize gender in a way that may be counterproductive to efforts to develop more inclusive language with respect to God.

Definition 3 -- Exclusive language:

Language which purposely or inadvertently excludes a part of the community of faith (e.g., "brethren," "sons of God," "man") or restricts our perception of God by failure to use the rich testimony of that community's experience of the Holy One.

Guideline 3.A. Exclusive language should be avoided by the conscientious and affirmative use of inclusive language as indicated above. To this end the manifold wisdom of God is revealed through the Church to all peoples everywhere. (Ephesians 3:10)

Epilogue

The language of worship and theology can be a powerful force in shaping our conceptions and experiences of God and of ourselves. Reflection on the power of language is important as we strive to affirm the richly diverse character of God's people and the mystery of the divine presence and self-presentation. Consequently the search for a more adequate language should be done with careful study in thoughtful dialogue with others, with sensitivity to the opinions and feelings of all involved. The General Assembly has previously adopted two study documents which are especially useful and are herewith commended (The Power of Language Among the People of God and Language about God: Opening the Door, 1979; Language About God, 1980). In this time of exploration and discussion it is important that we not become idolatrous of any particular set of terminology.

In the letter to the Galatians Paul sums up the reality of our experience before God and one another with language that is both formative and normative by saying "there is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus." Our aim is to glorify God and share joyously the good news of divine grace that has been extended to the whole of creation.

POLICY ON THE PROPER USE OF SOURCES

Education at McCormick is an ongoing, critical, and constructive conversation among students and faculty, academy and church, and the sources of knowledge which are used to inform it. While some cultures praise students who learn by rote or memorizing the words and ideas of great scholars, at McCormick one measure of excellence in this conversation is the voice of the student engaged with recognized authorities. Because we value student perspectives, the documentation of sources is an essential component of our work. When sources of information are unacknowledged or undocumented, the conversation loses its power, students lose their voice, and the sources lose their integrity. Therefore, at McCormick, the misuse of sources is considered a serious threat to good learning and academic standards by diminishing the academic conversation by inadequate or inaccurate citation of voices, sources, and influences. The purpose of this statement is to make clear what constitutes plagiarism, and how one can be sure that one is using sources correctly and usefully. Generally, the use of any of someone else's words or ideas without acknowledgement is plagiarism. Furthermore, the re-use of your own written work without acknowledgement is considered plagiarism (sometimes called "self-plagiarism").

Writing/Composition Guidelines

The first rule of thumb for all written work (in seminary and elsewhere) is that it should be your own creation. Whatever paper on which you place your name should contain your ideas and words, and your considered and informed judgment on the topic you have chosen. The rules for proper use of sources should be applied to your "informed" judgment. Your work in many papers should be based upon research on the topic in relevant books, articles, reference works, and other sources. A major goal of a Seminary education is to learn how to find and access the best resources for ministry and on-going learning. Your work should be yours, but also informed by the work of others. This means giving credit where credit is due by documentation and acknowledgement.

The second rule to be followed in all writing is that if you use anyone else's words in your paper, they must be both put in quotation marks and cited properly in a footnote/endnote. It is not enough merely to provide a proper citation -- exact quotations must be put in quotation marks. Avoid a paraphrase which changes only a word or two here or there -- instead you should either quote directly or rephrase completely in your own words. You must also cite your sources properly and accurately. The proper methods of citation of someone else's words or ideas are described in Guidelines for Research Papers in this Handbook. If you do quote from a source, because you think it says the point so eloquently and well that you must include it, be sure to evaluate what you quote in your own words, and link the quote to the argument of your own paper. Avoid too many long quotes in your paper, because then your own ideas may get lost in your paper; do not allow quotations to dominate the paper. Be sure that your paper expresses your informed opinion on the basis of your research. The thesis (main point), organization and style of your paper should be your own. If you have questions about any of these writing issues, feel free to ask your professors, your advisor or the members of the staff at the Language Resource and Writing Center (LRWC). The Language Resource and Writing Center has a variety of resources available to improve your ability to write. The Seminary is a good place to refine and improve your writing skills, which are so valuable in your life in ministry.

FACULTY PROCEDURE DEALING WITH MISUSE OF SOURCES and PLAGIARISM

Introduction:

McCormick Seminary expects all writers to exhibit the highest ethical standards in research, composition, and documentation. Ethical writers acknowledge their sources and document the influence of others in their work. We seek best practices for a learning community in which readers, researchers, and writers are all accountable to one another in the proper use of sources, and in the disciplines needed to identify and eliminate misuse and plagiarism. Our policy seeks to encourage best practices in research and writing, and to deal effectively with all forms of misuse and any instance of plagiarism. McCormick's policy reflects the values of the Council of Writing Program Administrators (<http://www.wpacouncil.org>).

DEFINITIONS:

Misuse of sources: any work that fails to adequately and accurately attribute someone else's language, ideas, or other original material.

Plagiarism: the deliberate use of someone else's language, ideas, or other original material without acknowledging its source. Examples include, but are not limited to the following:

1. Copying the words of others (whether published or unpublished) without proper indication (quotation marks, for example) or proper citation (accurate sources, footnotes, etc.).
2. Submitting the work of others in one's own name (buying a paper, downloading or copying from the internet, having another person write for you).
3. Failure to acknowledge the source of ideas you are using in your own work (omissions in footnotes or endnotes and/or in bibliography).
4. Paraphrasing the words or ideas of others with inadequate alteration and without appropriate and specific attribution.
5. Re-purposing your own work without acknowledgement (sometimes called "self-plagiarism").

All students are urged to resolve all questions of fair use before submitting work for any assignment.

McCormick Seminary recognizes there are differences between plagiarism and the unintended misuse of sources. This policy seeks to assist and govern faculty response to misuse and to plagiarism. McCormick writers must meet the highest ethical standards of making every effort to acknowledge sources fully and appropriately. If a writer fails to cite sources adequately or correctly, the work must be corrected and resubmitted.

Preemptive Procedures:

(1) The Seminary shall provide an introduction to proper academic writing form during Orientation. All students are urged to complete online tutorials listed annually by the Director of the LRWC, the degree-Deans, and the Library, for example:

<https://www.indiana.edu/~istd/test.html>

(2) In their course syllabi, instructors should include the Seminary's Policy on the Proper Use of Sources and this Seminary policy on misuse and plagiarism.

(3) Instructors will provide, during regular class time, written statements of their policies and expectations for proper use of sources and the avoidance of plagiarism and will include explanation and examples, before the first written assignment of the class.

(4) Instructors and students are encouraged to make use of the LRWC, the JKM library, online writing guides, and to use www.turnitin.com as a resource for class instruction in proper use of sources. If need be, www.turnitin.com can also be used (with care) as a plagiarism detection tool.

Response to Misuse:

If the instructor detects a misuse of sources, whether inadequate citation, incorrect citation, or other forms of failed attempts to identify and credit sources, the instructor will meet with the student, return the work with instructions for correct citation, revision, and resubmission of the assignment before assigning a grade.

Response to Plagiarism:

If the instructor detects plagiarism – i.e. the deliberate use of someone else’s language, ideas, or other original material without acknowledging its source, the instructor will follow these steps:

- (1) The instructor shall ascertain, by consulting the office of the degree level Dean, whether this is the first, second, third, etc. instance of suspected plagiarism in the student’s written work. Even in a first instance of plagiarism, the Student Standing Committee may decide among the following actions:
 - (a) Failure in the course
 - (b) Academic probation
 - (c) Suspension
 - (d) Dismissal
- (2) First Instance of Plagiarism. In a first instance of suspected plagiarism, the instructor shall:
 - (a) Meet with the student to explain what is wrong with the paper and how it can be remedied (i.e., the Seminary’s Policy on the Proper Use of Sources shall be reviewed with the student, and the plagiarized passages in the paper will be discussed).
 - (b) Require the student to rewrite the paper before grading it. Review the rewritten paper with the student, and if need be, in consultation with the degree level Dean or the Director of the LRWC.
 - (c) Require that the student complete McCormick’s remedial plagiarism course & submit written notification of this to the degree level Dean within two weeks.
 - (d) Refer the student to the LRWC for help with writing papers.
 - (e) Send a copy of the paper and its evaluation to the office of the degree level Dean, to the student’s advisor, and to the Director of the LRWC.
- (3) Second Instance of Plagiarism. For a second instance of suspected plagiarism (either for the same or a different course), the steps above under “First Instance” shall be repeated with the following changes:
 - (a) The meeting between the instructor and the student will now also include the degree level Dean. A representative of the LRWC and the advisor may also be present.
 - (b) The instructor will decide whether the paper should receive a “0” or whether it can be re-written for credit.
 - (c) In a second instance of plagiarism, the Student Standing Committee may decide among the following actions:

1. Failure in the course
2. Academic probation
3. Suspension
4. Dismissal

(4) Third Instance of Plagiarism. If the instructor determines that there have been two or more previous instances of suspected plagiarism (either for the same or a different course), she/he shall refer the student to the Student Standing Committee (“SSC” or “the Committee”) by informing the Chair of the Student Standing Committee and the degree level Dean, and submitting relevant materials to the chair of the Student Standing Committee.

(4.1) The degree level Dean shall advise, in writing, any student of his or her referral to the Student Standing Committee, giving reasons for the referral.

(4.2) The Student Standing Committee may invite the referred student to appear, but is not obligated to do so.

(4.3) Upon review of the materials, the Student Standing Committee will review the pattern of plagiarism, and will determine whether the student’s actions constitute a breach of academic and personal integrity. The Student Standing Committee shall decide among the following actions:

- (a) Failure in the course
- (b) Academic probation
- (c) Suspension
- (d) Dismissal

(4.4) If the action involves failure in the course (4.3a) or academic probation (4.3b), the Student Standing Committee shall notify the faculty member, the student, and the advisor of its judgment and decision. A copy of the paper, the instructor’s evaluation, and the notification letter will be filed in the office of the degree level Dean.

(4.5) If the action involves suspension (4.3c) or dismissal (4.3d), the Student Standing Committee shall communicate such proposed action to the faculty in a confidential memorandum. This memorandum shall specify a time and place at which the Student Standing Committee will next meet (at least seven days’ notice shall be given). Faculty members may communicate with the Student Standing Committee about the student and the proposed action either in writing or in person at the announced Student Standing Committee meeting.

(4.6) The Student Standing Committee shall, after reviewing pertinent information, confirm or alter its proposed action; making thereby a definitive action.

(4.7) The Student Standing Committee shall communicate, in writing, its determinative action to the student. It shall also, where feasible, interpret its action orally to the student through two or more of its members (including ex officio).

(4.8) When appropriate, the Student Standing Committee shall request the President, Vice President for Academic Affairs, or a member of the faculty or administration to be responsible for personal followup with the student.

(5) Any other instances of plagiarism beyond three shall result in dismissal.

Appeals

All students have the right to appeal any action of the Student Standing Committee (with the exception of issues relating to grade disputes). Notice of such appeal must be filed with the appropriate degree level Dean within 10 days of the date of the receipt of the written notice of the decision of the Student Standing Committee. If no appeal is filed in writing within this 10 day period, the decision of the committee is final. If an appeal is duly filed with the degree dean she or he will communicate with the chair of the Student Standing Committee and the matter of appeal will be taken up at the next scheduled meeting of the Student Standing Committee or within 30 days of receipt of the appeal. The Student Standing Committee will take up the issues presented in the appeal and decide its merits. The decision of the Student Standing Committee will be communicated in writing to the student in a timely manner by the chair. The appeal decision of the Student Standing Committee will be final.

ACCREDITATION STANDARDS COMPLAINT PROCESS

Any student wishing to submit a complaint on a matter relating to the accreditation standards and criteria of the Association of Theological Schools and the Higher Learning Commission may submit a written statement of complaint directly to the President. (See the McCormick Academic Catalog—found online at <http://mccormick.edu/content/registrars-office-0>—for more information on accreditation.) In accord with accreditation policies, President Crawford will investigate the matter and respond to the complainant within 30 days. Records of complaints and their resolution are maintained in the Office of the President for review by the accrediting agencies.

CAMPUS ADMINISTRATION POLICIES

STUDENT PAYMENT POLICY

It is McCormick's policy that all tuition charges are due and payable at the time a student registers for courses. No student will be permitted to register for courses until all previous charges due to McCormick, to the JKM Library, or to LSTC have been paid in full. Failure to make payment will also prevent the student from accessing grades, transcripts, and diplomas.

Students can view their account statements and make payments online via McCormick's Self-Service system: <https://pwrss-prod.ec.mccormick.edu/ss/Home.aspx>.

Students are responsible for prompt payment of all charges to their account regardless of receiving a bill.

All tuition, rent, fees, and any other charges, including those owed to the JKM Library and LSTC must be paid in full before a candidate is approved for graduation.

FINANCIAL AID REFUND POLICY

Any student receiving Federal Title IV funds (Direct Loans) will be subject to the following policy regarding the return of Federal Title IV funds:

Students who withdraw from all classes prior to completing more than 60% of an enrollment period (semester) will have their eligibility for federal aid recalculated based on the percentage of the term completed. McCormick Theological Seminary and the student will be required to return the federal aid program the amount of aid received that was in excess of the aid "earned" for the period the student remained enrolled. If the Seminary returns funds to the Title IV aid program, it could result in the student owing McCormick charges that were originally paid at the time of disbursement. Students may also be required to return funds released to them for personal expenses. Unearned aid will be returned in the following order: Federal Stafford Unsubsidized loans then Subsidized loans (if applicable). Please note that students are responsible for any balance owed to McCormick Theological Seminary as a result of the repayment of federal aid funds.

This policy also applies to institutional aid including but not limited to Merit Scholarships and Need-Based Tuition Grants.

FEDERAL SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS POLICY

McCormick Theological Seminary participates in the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program, a Title IV student financial aid program, through which an eligible master's-level graduate student may qualify for an unsubsidized student loan. To maintain eligibility, each student must meet McCormick Theological Seminary's satisfactory academic progress standards for participation in this Title IV Financial Aid Program. In addition, students must meet Federal requirements to qualify for Title IV funds, which include but are not limited to having obtained a high school diploma or GED.

A. Satisfactory Academic Progress

A student is judged to be making satisfactory progress toward a Master of Arts in Ministry (MTS), Master of Arts in Ministry (MAM), or Master of Divinity (MDiv) degree by maintaining:

- a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale, and
- by ongoing enrollment in sufficient course work to complete the degree in accordance with the maximum completion time outlined in the chart below

The progress of a student's participation in the Direct Loan Program at McCormick Seminary will be guided by the number of credits required for the degree program

- 27 credits/courses for the Master of Divinity
- 18 credits/courses for the Master of Theological Studies
- 16 credits/courses for the Master of Arts in Ministry

To satisfy the term and annual enrollment (pace) standard an:

- MDiv student must complete at least 4 credits in each fall and spring term and at least 9 credits in each academic year of enrollment.
- MTS and MAM students must complete at least 8 credits in each fall and spring term.

To be eligible to receive a Federal Stafford Loan, a student must make Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). SAP is a combination of qualitative and quantitative components and is measured by:

- grade point average (GPA);
- number of credits earned divided by the number of credit hours attempted;
- number of credit hours attempted divided by the number of credit hours necessary to complete the degree.

SAP Qualitative Measurements Grades

In order to make satisfactory academic progress, students must achieve the following minimum GPA in a given semester: 2.0 on a 4.0 scale for MAM, MTS, MDiv. *Jterm is considered a trailer term included with Fall semester and May term a trailer with Spring for qualitative measure.

SAP Quantitative Measurements Maximum Time Limits

In order to maintain SAP, students must complete their degree program within the maximum time limits established in the chart below. Under special circumstances, students can petition the director of the degree program for an extension. *Jterm is considered a trailer term included with Fall semester and May term a trailer term with Spring for quantitative measure.

Degree Program Part/Full Time	Minimum Classes per Semester	Maximum Completion Time
-------------------------------	------------------------------	-------------------------

MAM-Part time	2	4 years
MAM-Full time	4	2 years
MTS-Part time	2	4 years
MTS-Full time	4	2 years
MDiv-Part time	2	6 years
MDiv-Full time	4	3 years

Each student's progress is monitored after each payment period. Written notification will be sent to a student from the Financial Aid Office when eligibility for aid is affected by the Satisfactory Academic Progress evaluation.

If a student fails to meet established SAP requirements, a suspension letter is sent to the student. A suspension letter is sent if the student:

- has less than a 2.0 cumulative GPA;
- has earned less than 67% of the overall hours attempted;
- has attempted more than 150% of the hours required to complete their program.

A student whose eligibility for federal financial aid has been suspended may submit an appeal if mitigating circumstance prevented the student from achieving SAP. Circumstances that may be considered include death in the family, accident, illness, or other academic performance factors that were outside of the student's control. If a student feels that he or she violated McCormick Theological Seminary's SAP standards due to one of these factors, the student may submit an appeal to the SAP Committee for review. SAP appeals should be directed to:

Student Success Committee
Office of Student Financial Planning
McCormick Theological Seminary
5460 South University Ave.
Chicago, Illinois 60615

The SAP appeal must be submitted in writing to the financial aid office within 30 days after receiving the letter of suspension. The appeal must include the following:

- identifying information including the student's full name, social security number, current address,
- phone number and e-mail address (if applicable);
- a written letter of appeal from the student explaining the circumstance that led to their SAP violation, and state why those mitigating circumstances are no longer affecting their academic performance.

PROCEDURES

This personal statement must include:

- a detailed explanation of extenuating circumstances for each term the violation of SAP policy occurred; and
- a resolution or plan of action explaining how the student will ensure future academic success.

Documentation of illness or medical condition is required when failing SAP is attributed to a medical condition. A statement from the student's academic advisor is required for all 150% rate violators. For all students who have attempted more than 150% of the credits necessary to complete their degree, the advisor must outline all remaining courses required for the student's degree program and the expected semester of completion. The SAP Appeal Committee will review appeals within two weeks of receipt. The student will be notified in writing of the results of their appeal. Appeal decisions are based on the information presented to the committee and the SAP criteria. Appeal decisions will fall into one of the following categories:

- pending—additional information is needed
- approved—student is eligible to receive federal aid
- denied—student is not eligible to receive federal aid
- conditionally approved—the student will be sent a SAP contract that details the academic performance required in future terms for continued receipt of federal financial aid.

If an appeal is “approved” or “conditionally approved”, the student status will remain in Academic Probation status. The student's academic progress will be reviewed after each term of enrollment to determine if they meet SAP or if they are in compliance with the academic plan. If the student is found out of compliance, they must submit a subsequent appeal.

Questions pertaining to the SAP policy should be addressed to the director of financial aid.

B. Failure to Meet Satisfactory Academic Progress

Financial Aid Warning

At the end of a payment period in which a student does not meet the satisfactory academic progress definition, the student is notified and placed on financial aid warning status in which the student:

- may receive Title IV Funds for the subsequent payment period;

Financial Aid Probation

Students who fail to meet the requirements of SAP upon evaluation at the end of the warning semester will be placed on probation for the following semester. Probation is a formal notice that the student's academic progress is not meeting the standards of McCormick Theological Seminary. Students on probation may register for classes during the probationary semester (as set forth by the Student Success Committee) in order to work toward reinstatement of academic good standing. All courses must be taken for a letter grade during the probationary period. Students should consult their advisor and director of the degree program for advice as to the wisest selection of courses in order to maximize the chance of returning to good standing during the probationary semester.

For the payment period following a payment period during which a student has been placed on financial aid warning status, the Seminary may place the student on Financial Aid Probation and disburse Title IV Funds to the student if:

The student appeals the determination and

- The Seminary determines that the student should be able to meet the institution's satisfactory academic progress standards by the end of the subsequent payment period; or
- The Seminary develops an academic plan for the student that, if followed, will ensure that the student is able to meet the Seminary's satisfactory academic progress standards by a specific point in time.

A student on financial aid probation for a payment period may not receive Title IV Funds for the subsequent payment period unless the student achieves satisfactory academic progress or the Seminary determines that the student met the requirements specified by the institution in the academic plan for the student.

Reinstatement of Eligibility for Title IV Funds

Following the semester of probation, a reevaluation of SAP is conducted. Students who have been on probation who have made satisfactory academic progress will be returned to good standing. In extreme circumstances, a second probationary period may be granted after good standing has been achieved. Students who fail to make SAP by the end of the probationary semester will be administratively withdrawn from their academic programs and will no longer register for classes. A student must reapply for admissions at a later date with a written appeal regarding what has changed to allow for successful completion of the program.

A student regains eligibility for Title IV Funds when

- satisfactory academic progress standards have been achieved or
- an appeal has been approved for a student. Students for whom appeals have been approved may receive funds for the following semester only unless the student is successfully following and academic plan made for the student.

C. GPA and pace of completion are affected by course incompletes, withdrawals, repeated courses and transfers of credit from other institutions as outlined:

Incomplete coursework

A student can be granted, by the academic dean, an extension in order to complete the requirements for a particular course. An extension can be for no more than six weeks beyond the end of the course, at which point a grade must be posted. A grade of I (Incomplete) is temporarily posted during the extension period. It has no bearing on the grade point average. If the work is not completed by the deadline, the grade of I becomes an F, indicating the student has failed the course.

Also, if a final course grade is not submitted for a student who has neither completed the requirements for a course, nor been granted an extension by the academic dean, a grade of F shall be posted indicating the student has failed the course. For purposes of calculating GPA the course will count as an attempted credit.

Repeated courses

Repeats are not allowed except in the case of a required course for which a grade of D or F is received. When a grade of D or F is received and the course is repeated, all instances of the course appear on the student's transcript. The grades earned for all courses are counted in the student's grade point average. D and F grades may cause a student to not satisfy the qualitative (GPA) and/or quantitative (pace) standard of the Satisfactory Academic Progress requirement. For purposes of calculating GPA the course will count as an attempted credit.

Transfer credits

Grades of transfer credits are not included in the grade point average calculation.

Course withdrawals

A withdrawn (dropped) course is not counted as attempted toward the maximum credit limit for the degree. However, course withdrawals may increase the amount of time a student must be enrolled and may cause a student to take course work beyond the pace standard. A student enrolled beyond the pace standard is not eligible for financial aid. For purposes of calculating GPA the course will count as an attempted credit.

May term/summer courses

May term/summer is a trailer with Spring for the purposes of calculating GPA and attempted hours.

Incompletes, repeat classes, withdrawals and transfer credits are included as attempted credits in the in the pace component of the SAP calculation.

Remedial courses are not offered at McCormick for credit.

Students who wish to apply all course units from a completed McCormick Theological Seminary degree to count toward another McCormick degree program may do so, but only by relinquishing their completed degree. For example, a student who has completed the Master of Theological Studies degree may wish to use all completed course units to pursue the MDiv program. In such cases, the first degree is relinquished. Contact Registrar & Director of Student Records, Chandra Wade, for details (773-947-6285, cwade@mccormick.edu).

D. Definitions

Appeal

Appeal is the process by which a student who is not meeting the McCormick Theological Seminary's satisfactory academic progress standards petitions the Seminary for reconsideration of the student's eligibility for Title IV Funds. The appeal must be in written form, state the reason that caused the student's inability to meet satisfactory academic progress and how conditions have changed that will allow the student to meet the satisfactory academic progress standards during the subsequent semester. Reasons for an appeal include the death of a family member, illness or injury of the student.

Cumulative credit

Cumulative credit includes all equivalent transfer credits and all prior McCormick Theological Seminary course work whether or not financial aid was received for those credits.

Financial aid probation

Financial aid probation means a status assigned by the Seminary to a student who fails to make satisfactory academic progress after a period of financial aid warning. Students are not eligible to receive Title IV aid during a period of financial aid probation.

Financial aid warning

Financial aid warning means a status assigned to a student who fails to make satisfactory academic progress. Students are eligible to receive Title IV aid while in warning status.

IMMUNIZATION RECORDS POLICY

The state of Illinois has enacted a law, Public Act 85-1315, which requires students entering Illinois colleges and universities to present proof of immunity to vaccine-preventable diseases. To comply with this act, McCormick Theological Seminary requires that students enrolling for the first time demonstrate immunity to rubella, measles, mumps, tetanus and diphtheria. This applies to all students born after January 1, 1957. Please note that the tetanus/diphtheria vaccination must have been received within the past ten years to be valid. The certificate of immunity should be completed and signed by a health care professional before you register for the first semester. Students are not permitted to register for the following term/semester until the Registrar receives your completed immunization record or proof of date of birth prior to 1957.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT HEALTH INSURANCE POLICY

All international students and their dependents are required to have health insurance, provide a certificate of coverage and a detailed summary of health benefits to the Office of Student Academics. Coverage must provide the following: (required by the Affordable Care Act)

- Outpatient care (ambulatory patient services)
- Emergency Services
- Hospitalization (treatment for inpatient care)
- Mental health services and addiction treatment
- Prescription drugs
- Maternity and newborn care
- Rehabilitative services and devices
- Laboratory service
- Inpatient mental health care
- Preventive services, wellness services, and chronic disease treatment
- Pediatric services

In addition, your coverage must also include:

- Medical evacuation expenses of at least $50,000 per person covered
- Repatriation expenses of at least $25,000 per person covered

We understand that this coverage can be financially challenging and complicated. Nonetheless, this insurance is required for admission and enrollment at McCormick. Failure to maintain current health insurance may affect your registration in courses.

McCormick requires international students to carry health insurance, but the management of your health insurance, health care, policy benefits and premiums are solely arranged between you and your health insurance company.

As you review your options, please pay special attention to the following elements of any insurance plan:

- Premium: While many plans offer “cheaper” premiums, look at the deductibles, co-pays, and coinsurance, as lower premiums frequently result in higher out-of-pocket costs and limited networks. Before making your decision, consider your entire potential out of pocket cost to determine the best value for your needs.
- Network: Does the network for your plan extend to the Chicago area? Are the doctors that you already see considered in-network? If you are from out of state, pay special attention to the networks that offer limited HMO networks as they may not cover you in Illinois.
- Deductible: (this is the amount you must pay before your costs are covered by your insurance coverage): Is this an amount you are prepared to pay before your coverage can be accessed?
- Coinsurance: (the amount insurance pays after the deductible has been paid): Be aware of this coverage as you are responsible for the amount after coinsurance is applied. If your plan has 70% coinsurance, then you would be responsible for the remaining 30%.
- Co-pays: What is the amount of money you must pay for an office visit with your doctor? Specialist visit? Prescription?

More information, tools, and resources are available to you through the HealthCare.gov website. The Seminary will also work with state, county, and other organizations to provide additional information and assistance to students during scheduled orientation sessions at the beginning of each academic year, as well other Seminary-community gatherings.

If you have any questions about your health insurance you may contact Thehil Singhat tsingh@mccormick.edu

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the Seminary receives a request for access. Students should submit to the registrar written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The Seminary registrar will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the Seminary to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the registrar, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the Seminary decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the Seminary will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate education interests. A school official is a person employed by the Seminary in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff; a person or company with whom the Seminary has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the Seminary discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. The Seminary discloses without consent "directory information" which include the information in the Seminary directory, student's honors and awards, and dates of attendance. If a student does not wish to have directory information disclosed, s/he must notify the registrar by the first day of the first quarter in which s/he matriculates.
4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the Seminary to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

SPECIAL NEEDS AND DISABILITIES

"No otherwise qualified individual with a disability in the United States...shall, solely by reason of her or his disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance...”

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973

In accordance with this act, McCormick Theological Seminary seeks to give equal access to students with disability. The Office of Student Academics coordinates accommodation requests of students with disability for the seminary. A student with a disability that needs accommodation is asked to contact the Administrator for the Office of Student Academics as soon as possible to submit documentation and make requests for reasonable accommodations. Students may also notify faculty of accommodation requests on file with the Office of Student Academics. Students considering courses at other schools should consult the policies and practices of those schools.

Even though a student may have disclosed his/her disability/special need on the admissions application, the student will also need to consult with the Office of Student Academics to determine reasonable accommodations. A student may wish to disclose her/his disability/special need even though s/he is not requesting accommodation.

Students should submit in writing the following information:

1. The nature of his/her disability/special need
2. Any documents establishing this disability/special need
3. The student's request for reasonable accommodation

As some accommodations may take time to arrange, requests should be made as soon as possible after a student is admitted to McCormick.

Request should be submitted to the Office of Student Academics, which will coordinate recommendations for accommodation.

If you have any question about this process, please contact David Watkins, Assistant Dean of Student Services (773-947-6314; dwatkins@mccormick.edu; office #356).

LUTHERAN SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY AT CHICAGO/ MCCORMICK THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY PARKING POLICY

Principles and Vision

We are committed to providing safe, secure, and hospitable parking facilities for visitors, students, staff and faculty of both the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago and McCormick Theological Seminary. Operational practices and regulations are established to protect and control motor vehicle traffic and parking on the campus so that business may be conducted in an orderly manner.

The policies and procedures we develop with respect to parking are intended to promote and advance the mission of each institution and contribute to our common welfare. This policy is developed and established by the Joint Cabinet of LSTC and McCormick.

We seek to maintain healthy, cooperative relationships with community agencies and institutions that also help us to address parking needs. These include but are not limited to University of Chicago parking services, Augustana Lutheran Church, and the City of Chicago. A guiding principle will be to develop programs and policies which help to serve the need for parking by utilizing all alternative systems and approaches. It is also an objective to utilize every space in the shared parking facility for the maximum number of users.

Operational Plan

Visitor Parking

Reserved parking for visitors of both LSTC and McCormick is located on the surface level immediately adjacent to the University Avenue entrance. The parking area is posted and requires all visitors to register at the front reception desk of McCormick. Any vehicle that is not registered at the McCormick front reception desk may be towed. Visitors must have a "Visitor" tag hanging from their rearview mirror. Persons with garage parking permits are prohibited from parking in visitor spaces on the surface level. Regular patrol of the Visitor and Reserved parking areas will be done. There is no overnight parking on the surface level. Additional visitor parking is available on the first floor of the University of Chicago parking structure at 55th Street and Ellis (there is a fee).

Garage Parking

Parking permits will be distributed for the underground garage. Distribution of permits is to be done on a fair and equitable basis to members of both institutions in a manner that fully optimizes the available parking. Two permits may be issued per family.

Category of users for garage parking will include:

- A) Faculty/Cabinet level administrators of LSTC and McCormick
- B) Staff of LSTC and McCormick
- C) Currently enrolled student residents of LSTC and McCormick housing
- D) Currently enrolled commuter students of LSTC and McCormick
- E) Sponsored Events and Groups
- F) Residents of LSTC guest housing
- G) Residents of LSTC Housing that are not LSTC/McCormick students

Oversight

The parking policy and operational plan is the oversight of the McCormick Office of Administration and Finance. The McCormick Office of Administration and Finance is located on the second floor of the McCormick building, Room 232.

Permits Issued

Parking permits will be assigned at the beginning of each academic year and may be renewed each term. After the beginning of the academic year, parking permits are limited and available on a “first-come, first-served” basis. To receive a permit, a current ID and evidence of current registration or employment must be presented. Two permits may be issued per family.

Display of Parking Permit and Proximity Card

A proximity card will be issued to each individual to gain access through the gates of the parking garage. A parking permit will also be issued to each individual and must be displayed from the rear view mirror while in the garage.

Fees/Payment

It is a high priority to keep the facility safe and secure, clean and maintained. To help defray costs of security and maintenance, a fee will be charged for use of the facility. Fees will be charged on a graduated scale based on category of user. See current parking application for fee schedule.

Students will be billed by the package, semester or term, and must pay by cash, check or credit at the time their application is submitted (including a $35 deposit for the proximity card that will be refunded when the card is returned). There is no prorating of package, semester or term charges.

Staff and faculty that have payroll deduction will be charged on a monthly basis, and must return the proximity card to the McCormick receptionist, when parking is no longer required, or pay a fee of $35.00.

Replacement of a missing proximity card or parking permit will cost $50 each.

Faculty Summer Parking

Faculty members who do not wish to be charged for summer term need to notify Monica Williams, mwilliams@mccormick.edu, or Natasha Gaines, ngaines@mccormick.edu, by May 15, 2021 of their intentions. The proximity card will be deactivated on May 31, 2021, and the faculty member will not be charged for summer term, meaning that he/she will not have parking privileges for the summer term. The card will be reactivated for the fall semester, and the deduction of parking fees will resume fees at that time.

Rules and Regulations

The act of parking or driving a motor vehicle on campus is a privilege and constitutes acceptance by the owner and/or operator of the responsibility to see that his/her vehicle is neither operated nor parked in violation of these regulations or any regulations/laws of the state. Permit-holders and visitors acknowledge, by use of the parking facility, the authority of LSTC and McCormick to regulate and enforce parking in the shared parking garage and the surface lots. In using the area, the permit-holder and/or visitor affirm that they will act in compliance with the parking rules and regulations. Faculty, staff and students are prohibited from parking in visitor spots of the surface lot. There is no overnight parking on the surface level.

Payment of parking fees entitles individual access to parking lots, but cannot be a guarantee that a parking space will always be available.

Special Events

To accommodate the parking needs of special events, we reserve the right to close needed parking spaces. To the best of our ability permit holders will be notified in advance of any parking space closure.

Events that require Additional Visitor Parking

The surface lot has 11 spots on the west end and 12 spots on the east end of the surface parking lot available for visitors. Parking will not be reserved; it will be on a first come basis, as there are other visitors to the schools. If additional parking is needed, the sponsoring department may provide the names of attendees 10 days in advance so they can be admitted to the garage, and parking will be charged at the rate of $5.00 a day. There is a $35.00 charge for cards that are not returned, and the department will be responsible for picking up and returning the cards.

Requests for Group Visitor Parking

If you are sponsoring a group event and require underground parking, the fee for each attendee will be $5.00 per day. Requests must be made in writing 10 days in advance of the event. If possible, a list of attendees should be sent along with your request. Attendees will be admitted to the garage and the charges tracked and billed to the sponsoring department.

If your guests need after business hours access to the parking garage, we will provide proximity and magnetic stripe cards to them in advance of their arrival if you have provided their information at least 10 days in advance of the event. There will be a $35 charge for unreturned proximity cards.

Buses/Large Vans

Garage Clearance is 8'2". Buses/large vans will not fit in the underground garage and are currently prohibited from parking overnight on the surface level without the consent of McCormick's Director of Administration (ngaines@mccormick.edu).

Nontransferable

The permit-holder cannot sell, transfer or give his or her permit to anyone. It is the responsibility of the permit-holder to advise the McCormick office of Administration and Finance of any change in name, address, telephone number, make, model, and color of vehicle, and additions or deletions to carpool membership.

Spaces for the Physically Challenged

Parking spaces for the physically challenged are available. These parking spaces are clearly marked and strictly reserved for individuals displaying state parking permits or license plates. Violators will be ticketed and/or towed.

Security

While security patrols are provided and University of Chicago emergency phones are located throughout the facility, a parking permit does not include or imply security protection. LSTC and McCormick assume no responsibility for theft or damage to vehicles or their contents. Vehicles should be kept locked at all times. Owners must maintain all State of Illinois required vehicle insurance.

General Parking Rules include:

- There is no overnight parking on the surface level.
- Parking is permitted only in areas designated for parking. Parking in roadways, loading zones, fire lanes, on the grass, posted no parking zones, or at building exits is prohibited.
- Parking permits are nontransferable and will be revoked in the event any application, permit or vehicles misrepresentation.
- All vehicles not displaying the proper parking permit will be ticketed on the first offense, and may be ticketed and towed on the second offense at the owner's expense and risk.
- The speed limit in the parking facility is five miles per hour.

Parking privileges can be revoked and tickets issued due to the following:

- If a permit-holder loans his or her proximity card and permit to someone not registered.
- If a permit-holder uses their proximity card to open the gate to allow a non-permit holder access to the parking garage.
- If a permit-holder knowingly causes damage to the parking garage or lot.
- Operating a vehicle in a reckless manner.
- Parking in a space for the physically challenged without proper authorization.
- Failure to obey directions of a member of the facility services department in the execution of his/her duties.
- Parking in such a manner that an adjoining space is rendered unusable.

City Ordinances/State Law

In addition to the parking rules and regulations cited here, city ordinances and state laws relating to motor vehicles are also enforced.

Vehicles must be operational

It is an objective to utilize every space for the maximum number of users. The spaces are meant for regular use and not long term storage. All vehicles in the garage or on the surface lot must be licensed and deemed to be fully operational. If a vehicle is deemed to be inoperable, it will be ticketed and is subject to towing; the owner will be contacted.

Relocation

LSTC and McCormick reserve the right to relocate vehicles parked in the garage or lot. Adverse weather conditions such as snow or other emergency situations may be reasons a vehicle needs to be relocated from one location on campus to another. Areas of the facility may be blocked off for maintenance and cleaning purposes.

To avoid breaching your own or someone else's safety and security, please tell someone without a keycard that they must enter the 5460 building by way of the first floor north entrance.

For example:

Person without keycard:

Knock, knock, knock.....Helloooooo (or pointing at door handle through glass).

You:

I am sorry, but you must enter the building through the first floor north entrance.

For security purposes, neither of the side stairwells is ever accessible for students to go up further than the first floor. Students are always able to go down from the third or second floors, but can exit only on the first floor (or the garage if they have parking).

Students always have access to the second floor, even after business hours, by way of the central stairway and by elevator (but must use their keycard to swipe the reader in the elevator after 6:00 p.m.).

Students who are not taking a class on the third floor are not allowed on the third floor after business hours unless accompanied by someone who has an office or cubicle on the third floor.

Students who are taking a class on the third floor after business hours must take the elevator to the third floor. Depending on the circumstances, either Security at the front desk will swipe the reader in the elevator to allow them access to the third floor or the elevator will be set to run automatically during class time only. On days when a class is being held on the third floor after business hours, Security staff may be stationed on both the first and third floors.

STUDENT LOCKERS POLICY

McCormick Theological Seminary has a limited number of lockers available on a first come - first served basis with first preference given to commuter students. COMMUNITY POLICIES AND BY-LAWS

POLICY STATEMENT ON ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUGS

McCormick Theological Seminary recognizes both alcohol and drug abuse as potential health, safety and security problems. The school expects everyone to assist in maintaining a school environment free from the negative effects of alcohol and other drugs.

McCormick Theological Seminary prohibits all students, faculty and staff from the unlawful manufacture, possession, use, distribution, sale or purchase of alcohol and illicit drugs on the school premises or as part of any school activity. The only acceptable use of alcohol is moderate consumption and/or possession on the school premises at approved school functions (e.g., receptions) by those legally permitted to consume or distribute alcohol. Such functions must comply with all school guidelines.

McCormick Theological Seminary fosters responsible behavior and quality of life and ministry and, thereby, expects drug and alcohol-free performance of duties by faculty, staff and students. If an individual may be impaired by a medication taken according to a doctor's prescription or the medication's directions, he or she is expected to discuss it with his or her dean, supervisor, or other responsible person of the Seminary.

All members of the McCormick Theological Seminary community are responsible for being fully aware of the requirements of federal and Illinois statutes and Chicago ordinances concerning the consumption, possession and the use of alcohol and other drugs. Copies of these laws are available from the Office of the President. The school holds each member of the community accountable for his or her own conduct and the consequences of that conduct.

Various federal and state laws prohibit the possession, distribution and use of controlled substances, unless in compliance with licensing requirements or a doctor's prescription. Moreover, Illinois law prohibits consumption of and possession of alcohol by any person under the age of 21. Additionally, Illinois law prohibits the sale of alcoholic beverages except by those licensed to sell such beverages. Illinois law and city ordinances also prohibit public intoxication, operation of a vehicle or bicycle under the influence of alcohol or other intoxicants, and consumption of alcohol in a public place. Violation of these laws or other laws relating to drugs and alcohol may result in probation, fines, imprisonment and a permanent criminal record. A violation may also result in school disciplinary action. Documentation of such behavior, even without conviction in a court of law, shall also be cause for disciplinary action to students or personnel.

Besides these legal restrictions, the following school guidelines govern events on campus where alcoholic beverages are served:

Alcoholic beverages may not be served at any event at which persons under the age of 21 are present without prior written approval of the Office of the President. Academic Units which wish to serve alcoholic beverages in a school public area (common rooms, lounges, etc.) at an event at which graduate professional students are likely to be in attendance must register the event at least one week in advance with the Dean of the Faculty and Vice President for Academic Affairs and must designate a person to be present and responsible for the event. The Student Council in planning receptions for graduate professional students must obtain permission of the Vice President for Academic Affairs one week in advance.

Non-alcoholic beverages in reasonable quantities must be available at all functions where alcohol is served. Further, food must be served at such events. There may be no reference to the availability of alcohol in any publicizing of a campus event.

Health Risks:

The use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol have been definitively shown to have potential health consequences that may be permanent. These consequences include disorders and dysfunctions which affect the central nervous system, reproductive functioning, cardiovascular and pulmonary systems, and endocrine functioning. Specifically, there are both short and long-term effects on cognition, memory retention, information processing, coordination, athletic and academic performance. The use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol may also affect emotional equilibrium, mental well-being and the ability to make critical decisions, and may contribute to self-destructive and other risk-taking behaviors, including inappropriate sexual activity. The chronic use and abuse of drugs and alcohol have been shown to cause adverse permanent changes in most of the biological systems studied. These changes can lead to severe impairment, disability and premature death.

Sanctions:

Besides legal consequences, the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol and any violation of the school and other drug policy by a student or employee will result in appropriate discipline. Sanctions include, but are not limited to, removal from school housing; discharge from student employment; probation, suspension or expulsion from the school. The school retains full and final discretion on whether, when, and under what conditions a student may be reinstated or reemployed after an instance of alcohol abuse and improper drug use. Particular sanctions in a given case will depend on the nature of the violation, the seriousness of the offense, prior record, and may include the successful completion of an approved rehabilitation or chemical dependency program.

In order for the school to comply with federal law, student employees who are convicted of any violation of any criminal drug statutes (including misdemeanors) for a violation occurring either on school property or during working time must notify the Dean of their program within five (5) days of the date of the conviction. A conviction includes any plea or finding of guilty, any pleas of "nolo contendere" (no contest) and/or any imposition of a fine, jail sentence or other penalty. Pursuant to federal law, if the convicted employee is working on a project funded through a federal grant or contract, the school is required to notify the federal contracting or granting agency within ten (10) days of receiving such notice of conviction.

Preventive Education:

McCormick Theological Seminary offers addiction seminars and workshops and provides information about the availability of such workshops in the community. The school encourages integration of drug and alcohol education into all ministry courses and, where appropriate, into the curriculum of other departments.

McCormick Theological Seminary offers community education regarding drug and alcohol concerns. The school networks with other educational institutions in its area in prevention education. The school offers informal group follow-up to formal drug and alcohol education when appropriate.

Chemical Dependencies:

McCormick Theological Seminary, as a concerned Christian community acting in justice and charity, recognizes that in our society and our community are numerous illnesses among which are alcoholism and other chemical dependencies. It is the McCormick Theological Seminary policy to seek the earliest possible identification, intervention, and appropriate help for anyone suffering from these harmful dependencies.

These illnesses manifest themselves in impairments of one's bodily, mental, social and spiritual capacities and unless arrested and treated, can lead to irreparable damage. Extensive experience indicates that persons afflicted with these illnesses are usually blind to developing symptoms in themselves and are rarely capable of effective self-help. Hence, the McCormick Theological Seminary community considers it obligatory to establish a procedure to facilitate proper education, intervention, diagnosis, treatment and recovery.

Procedure:

Any student who becomes aware of his/her own need or anyone who knows someone who suffers from these illnesses is encouraged to seek advice and/or assistance from the program dean/director or other designated person. Any and all inquiries are kept confidential. The Dean will work with professional consultants to diagnose the dependency, evaluate its seriousness to the individual, and provide appropriate recommendations/referrals for help. Anyone who is referred or who seeks assistance will naturally be a part of the evaluative procedure in determining what course of action is best suited for that individual. Every effort will be made by the school to cooperate with any student undergoing treatment and to minimize disruption of studies during treatment. To further guarantee confidentiality, only the Dean/Director and, if necessary, the Vice President for Academic Affairs, will know the reasons for such a leave.

The primary objective of this policy is one of Christian concern, formulated in the hope of relieving pain and suffering, as well as restoring the individual to health, dignity and a productive, rewarding involvement in his/her school, ministry and/or community.

ANTI-DISCRIMINATION AND ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY AND COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

A. POLICY STATEMENT

McCormick Theological Seminary (the "Seminary" or "McCormick") promotes a productive working and learning environment and does not tolerate verbal or physical conduct by any employee or student that harasses, disrupts, or interferes with another's work or academic performance or that creates an intimidating, offensive, or hostile environment. Such harassing treatment is unacceptable and contrary to our policy and the basic commitment to treat one another fairly, with dignity and mutual respect.

The Seminary strictly enforces its policy against all forms of prohibited harassment involving members of the Seminary Community. No form of harassment will be tolerated. The Seminary cannot stress enough that it will not tolerate any form of prohibited harassment, nor will it tolerate retaliation against individuals who, in good faith, complain of or oppose prohibited harassment or participate in a harassment investigation.

B. WHO IS PROTECTED?

The rules and procedures set forth below apply to the entire Seminary Community. The Seminary Community includes, but may not be limited to, Seminary employees (full time, part time, exempt, non-exempt, hourly or contract staff, outsourced independent contractors, faculty, and adjunct faculty, and student field site supervisors), students (including cross-registered students), Board members, and applicants for employment and admission into the Seminary. The Seminary Community may also, from time to time, include prospective new students, third-party service providers, consultants, and other visitors. The Seminary will not tolerate harassment from any source or against any person in the Seminary Community.

C. PROHIBITED CONDUCT UNDER THIS POLICY

1. Discrimination.

a) It is a violation of this Policy to discriminate, permit discrimination, or create a discriminatory academic or work condition on the basis of a person's race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability status, citizenship, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, veteran status, or other protected status in matters of admission to the Seminary, employment, Seminary housing, benefits, privileges or other services provided by the Seminary.

b) Discrimination of this kind may also be strictly prohibited by a variety of federal, state and local laws, including but not limited to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act 1964; Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972, the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975; the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, and the Illinois Religious Freedom Protection and Civil Union Act of 2011. This Policy is intended to comply with the prohibitions stated in these anti-discrimination laws.

c) Discrimination in violation of this Policy will be subject to sanctions up to and including termination.

Note: The discrimination provisions of this Policy as set forth above do not in any way restrict or limit McCormick's lawful admissions or employment requirements.

2. Harassment.

Harassment, including sexual harassment, is prohibited by federal, state, and local laws. This Policy prohibits harassment of any kind, and the Seminary will take appropriate action to swiftly address any violations of this Policy. Harassment includes any electronic, written, verbal, or physical act toward an individual which is based on any actual or perceived trait or characteristic of that person and is designed to threaten, intimidate or coerce. Also, verbal taunting (including racial and ethnic slurs) which, in the complaining party's good faith opinion, impairs his or her ability to perform his or her job or academic work.

Examples of harassment may include, but are not be limited to, the following:

- a) Comments, epithets, slurs, and negative stereotyping that denigrate or show hostility regarding a person's race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability status, citizenship, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, veteran status, or other protected status.
- b) Distribution, display or discussion of any written, electronic or graphic material that ridicules, denigrates insults, belittles, or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual, or group because of race, color, national origin, age, religion, disability status, citizenship, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, veteran status, or other protected status.

3. Sexual Harassment.

Sexual harassment in any form is prohibited under this Policy. Sexual harassment is a form of discrimination and is unlawful under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

What is sexual harassment? Sexual harassment includes unsolicited and unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature, when such conduct:

- a) Is made explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment or academic standing, or
- b) Is used as a basis for an employment or academic decision, or
- c) Unreasonably interferes with an employee's or student's work or academic performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or otherwise offensive environment.

Everyone should be aware of the possible consequences of entering into romantic relationships with individuals over whom they have academic, professional, or supervisory responsibility -- even if by mutual consent. Faculty and students must also comply with applicable codes of conduct set forth in their respective published handbooks.

Sexual harassment does not refer to behavior or occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature. It refers to behavior that is unwelcome, that is personally offensive, that lowers morale and, therefore, interferes with work and academic effectiveness. Sexual harassment may take different forms.

Examples of conduct that may constitute sexual harassment include, but are not limited to, the following:

- (i) Verbal: Sexual innuendoes, suggestive comments, jokes of a sexual nature, sexual propositions, lewd remarks, threats.
- (ii) Non-verbal: The distribution, display, or discussion of any written, electronic or graphic material, that is sexually suggestive, or shows hostility toward an individual or group because of sex;
- (iii) Physical: Unwelcome, unwanted physical contact, including but not limited to, touching, tickling, pinching, patting.

4. Retaliation.

The Seminary feels very strongly that it is important to provide faculty, staff, and students with a sensitive, respectful, non-threatening process for registering their concerns without fear of retaliation. Therefore, no adverse employment or academic action will be imposed on an employee, student, or other complainant, as punishment for:

- a) Reporting or responding to a good faith complaint of harassment; or
- b) Appearing as a witness in the investigation of a complaint; or
- c) Serving as an investigator.

Retaliation or attempted retaliation is a violation of this Policy and anyone who does so will be subject to severe sanctions up to and including termination.

D. RELATIONSHIP TO FREEDOM OF INQUIRY AND EXPRESSION.

McCormick is committed to the principles of free inquiry and free expression. Discussion and debate are fundamental to the mission of the Seminary and this Policy is not intended to restrict or limit teaching methods or freedom of expression. However, discrimination, harassment, sexual harassment, and retaliation are neither legally protected expression nor the proper exercise of academic freedom. Violations of this Policy compromise the integrity of the Seminary, its tradition of intellectual freedom and the trust placed in the members of our community.

E. REPORTING.

The Seminary can respond to specific instances and allegations of harassment only when we are made aware of them. The Seminary therefore requires anyone who believes that he or she has witnessed or been subjected to discrimination or harassment to promptly come forward with inquiries, reports or complaints and to seek assistance from the Director of Human Resources or the Chief Business or Financial Officer of the Seminary. To the extent the complaint involves either the Director of Human Resources or the Chief Business or Financial Officer of the Seminary, complaints shall be submitted to the Seminary President who will manage the complaint and any investigation in a matter consistent with this Policy.

In addition, any supervisor who becomes aware of instances or allegations of harassment, including but not limited to sexual harassment, by or against a person under his or her supervisory authority must report it to the Director of Human Resources or Chief Business, Financial, or Administrative Officer of the Seminary.

What should you do if you believe you are a victim of harassment or sexual harassment or have witnessed harassment?

F. COMPLAINT PROCEDURE.

1. Reporting Complaints and Concerns.

a) If you are the recipient of any unwelcome gesture or remark of a sexual or non-sexual nature, DO NOT REMAIN SILENT. You are empowered to make it clear to the individual engaging in the offensive conduct that you find such conduct offensive and unwelcome and state clearly that you want the offensive conduct to stop at once.

b) If you find it uncomfortable confronting the individual engaging in the offensive conduct or, the conduct does not stop, notify your supervisor, the Vice-President of your department (e.g., the Dean of Faculty, the Associate Dean, Chief Financial or Business Officer), hereafter referred to as the “Department Head”), Classroom Instructor, or the Director of Human Resources. Any such complaint received by any supervisor, Department Head, or Classroom Instructor shall be immediately reported by that person to the Director of Human Resources, or, to the extent the complaint involves the Director of Human Resources, to the Chief Business, Financial, or Administrative Officer of the Seminary.

c) The report/complaint can also be made directly to the Director of Human Resources. The Director of Human Resources and her/his Department Head have the primary responsibility of implementing this policy. The Director of Human Resources will respond to all inquiries and complaints regarding discrimination, sexual harassment, other harassment, or retaliation; maintain records of these inquiries and complaints as well as their resolution, and keep the President advised of them, unless the complaint involves allegations about the President, in which case, the Director of Human Resources and her Department Head shall consult and advise the Chair of the Board of Trustees or her/his designee.

It is very important that you register your complaint as soon as possible following the behavior or incident giving rise to your complaint. It is extremely important that complaints are made within a reasonable period of time following the behavior or incident giving rise to the complaint. Timely reporting of complaints will help us all maintain a productive and respectful workplace, as well as insure that relevant testimony and witnesses will be available to assist in the investigation of the complaint. The Director of Human Resources will make a written record of your complaint and initiate an investigation of the complaint. The Director of Human Resources may, under certain circumstances, utilize the assistance of one or more Department Heads as well as outside professionals, to conduct the investigation. The investigation shall be carried out as confidentially and as promptly as possible.

2. Investigative Process, Resolution, and Disciplinary Action

The Seminary shall conduct investigations of reports and complaints as follows:

a) The Director of Human Resources and, in some cases, her/his Department head and/or legal counsel, will interview the individual or individuals bringing forward the complaint, the individual alleged to have violated our Policy, and any necessary witnesses, as well as review any relevant documentation to determine the nature and extent of the conduct giving rise to the complaint.

b) As soon as practicable after receiving the complaint, but in no event more than 10 business days following receipt of the complaint, the Director of Human Resources, and her/his Department Head and/or legal counsel will conclude the investigation and submit a report of their findings to the President of the Seminary, with copies to the appropriate Department Head.

c) If the investigation reveals sufficient evidence to reasonably conclude that harassment or retaliation in violation of this policy took place, the Director of Human Resources, in conjunction with his/her Department Head, will recommend to the President of the Seminary (or, to the extent the complaint involves the President of the Seminary, the Chair of the Board of Trustees) the appropriate disciplinary action to be taken by the Seminary. The appropriate action may take the following factors into consideration: (i) The severity, frequency and pervasiveness of the conduct; (ii) Prior complaints made by the complainant; (iii) Prior complaints made against the respondent; (iv) The quality of the evidence (first-hand knowledge, credible corroboration etc.). To the extent that the President concurs in that recommendation (or, the chair of the Board of Trustees in the event the complaint involves the President), the recommended disciplinary action shall be carried out.

d) If the investigation does not reveal sufficient evidence to reasonably conclude that harassment or retaliation took place, or it is determined that there has been no harassment or retaliation in violation of this Policy, but some potentially problematic conduct is revealed, preventative/corrective action may be taken.

e) Within 5 business days after the investigation is concluded, the Director of Human Resources will meet with the respondent, in order to notify him or her in person of the findings of the investigation and to inform them of the action being recommended by the Director of Human Resources and approved by the President (unless the complaint involves the President in which case, the Chair of the Board of Trustees). The Director of Human Resources or his/her designee will also meet with the complainant to notify the complainant about the findings and, to the extent permitted in light of privacy concerns, the action(s) taken to resolve the complaint.

f) In the event the Seminary receives a complaint or complaints under this Policy involving a member of the Faculty covered by the Seminary's Faculty Handbook, to the extent that Faculty member disagrees with the resolution of the complaint and/or the disciplinary action to be implemented, that Faculty member may invoke his or her right to file a written grievance in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Faculty Handbook.

G. CONFIDENTIALITY

The Seminary will work to protect the privacy of all those involved in a complaint of harassment or discrimination to the extent it is possible. The Seminary will, to the extent permitted by law, keep confidential all records of complaints, responses, and investigations. Allegations of harassment will not be placed in a personnel file unless, after appropriate investigation, such allegations have been investigated and found more likely than not to have been accurate. Written records of complaints and all other materials relating to such complaints will be marked "confidential" and will be retained in a separate and secure file by the Human Resources department.

H. DISSEMINATION OF POLICY

The Seminary shall make this Policy available to all employees and students. Periodic notices sent to students, employees, and supervisors about the Seminary's anti-harassment policy will include information about the complaint procedure and will refer individuals to designated offices/officials for additional information.

The Seminary reserves the right to modify and/or amend any and all of the procedures outlined herein at any time, in its sole discretion. In the event that the Seminary determines that the circumstances warrant modification/amendment of any part of these procedures, timely notice of the same will be given to all relevant and affected parties.

The Seminary will make every reasonable effort to ensure that employees have received the appropriate training related to this Policy. However, any supervisor who believes additional training may be beneficial to his or her unit should feel free to request the services of the Human Resources department.

2.2.1 The amount of the Emergency Fund each year will be determined in the spring before submitting the final Deacon Budget.

2.2.2 The Emergency Fund was established to provide monetary support to students. It is meant to help offset the financial burden experienced by students for multiple reasons that might incur trauma or undue stress, including but not limited to, traveling due to the loss of a loved one, medical emergencies, or assistance due to job loss.
